CONSTRUCTION UPDATE: IS IT FINALLY OVER?

Construction is the building and rebuilding of old and new dreams. If our walls at East Side could talk, surely they would reveal many interesting stories about the restoration and additions that have taken place.

Building A, on Van Buren Street was completed and ready for use when we entered East Side in 1979. Building B was opened in the beginning of our sophomore year, presenting new laboratories, a gym, a large all-purpose room and general classrooms along with home economic facilities. In our Junior year, the ongoing restoration of building C was beginning to take shape. Structural supplements were added, while the original architectural designs and details remained.

Actual construction began in the early seventies. It seemed like every time you turned around the construction workers were there. They were tearing down or putting up, you just couldn't get rid of them. But now in our Senior year it seems almost over, and soon we can see every staircase, hall, and classroom at last. Finally, things are happening and we'll be rid of construction, or will we?

We're finally beautiful.

East Side keeps up with the changing times.

With age comes beauty.

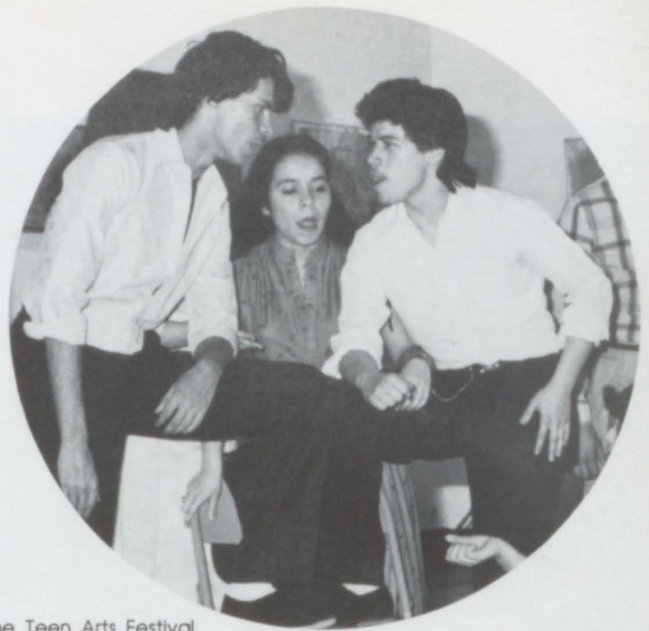

Where do these go?

Staying in style.

Our Talent Makes Things Happen

Officer Krupke (Sergio Geraides) breaking up the rumble.

In the spring of 1982, in front of an enthusiastic home audience, East Side's auditorium set the stage for "West Side Story."

Much of the success of the play can be credited to the sound performances of Senaida Gonzalez, Jose Mendez, Robert Morell and past graduates, who dedicated many hours to the rehearsal and perfection of each act.

On March 20th the cast brought their rendition to the Newark Museum, and presented an abbreviated version of their production, as a part of the Teen Arts Festival. In attendance to support the talented group was director Mrs. Glover and our principal Mrs. Cardiellos.

The year 1983 to many people is but another year of memories to add to their collection, but one more candle to put on their cake. We however, the graduating class of "83" feel differently, this is our chance to show the world what East Siders are made of. Our years at East Side have shown us that together we can reach out and help reshape our surroundings. Our ambition, knowledge and determination will guarantee our success. The year nineteen-hundred and eighty-three is our chance to make things happen.

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT

On April 23, 1982, the Juniors, and their guests, entered Casa Stoia with smiles and excitement, awaiting an evening of fun and laughter.

Mr. Chill, greeted everyone personally at the door, and informed us that there was plenty of food and refreshments for all to enjoy.

Coming from the next room, we heard the sound of disco music and saw reflections of the flashing lights.

In addition, we could hear the D.J. welcoming us to join the action on the dance floor.

When the tempo changed, the couples then gathered for a slow dance.

This was certainly a night to remember, and it could only happen "Just Once."

We got the beat.

Stuffing your face.

Can't you be serious, Patricia.

A word of advice.

Always Looking Good

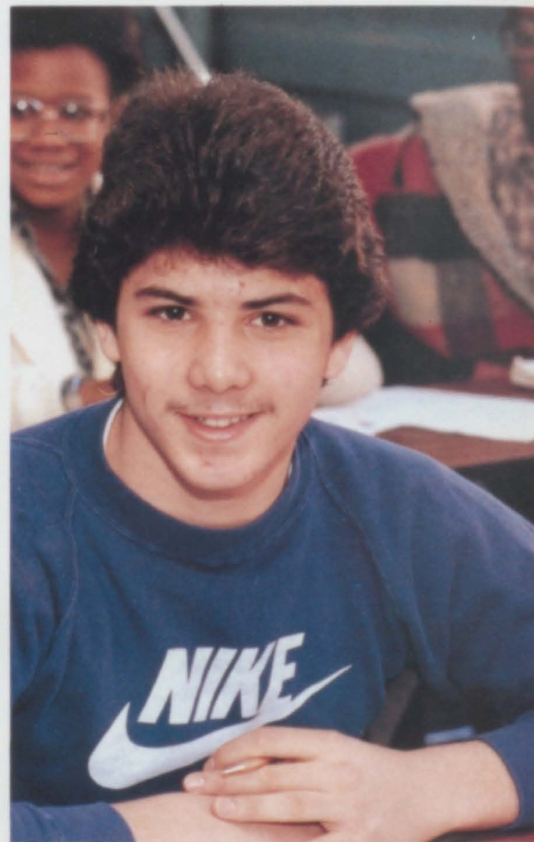

Nobody can forget those long hours of study, cramming before an exam, and failing to get home before eleven. Or can we? Yet East Siders always pull through and make things happen.

Of course, Mary Kurdyla and Jose Vila choose not to remember mornings before school; waking up at six to make an eight o'clock class. After rushing her shower, Theresa Capra, then applies her makeup, and heads for her closet. At this time, most Raiders are doing the same. All of us jump into the nicest outfit we could possibly find, always succeeding at "looking good."

As we all walk by each other in passing time, we become very aware of our surroundings. We see Michael Walski's variety of colors, Maggie Gonzalez's different styles of clothes, Mayte Garcia's outrageous hairdos, and, last but not least, Gladys Rivas' stripes.

With these special appearances, we march into class making something happen. We change our whole atmosphere. We make it a brighter and more well-toned place.

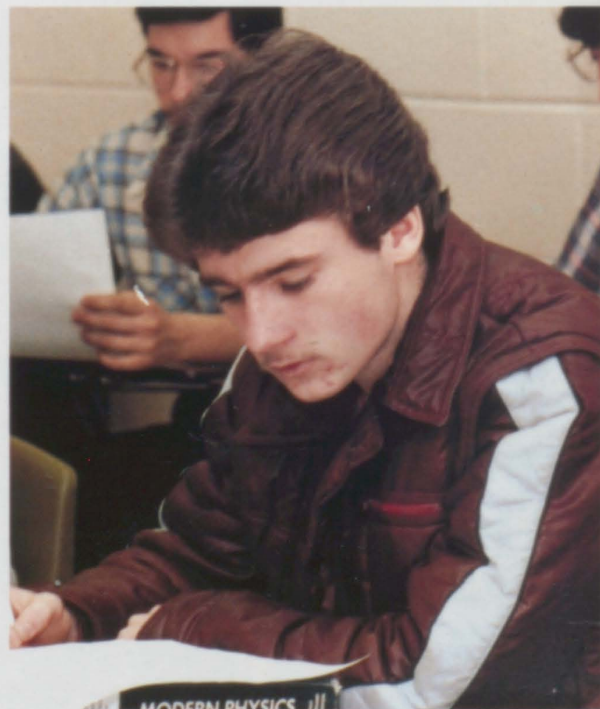

Then, as we are seated the sweat of last night's studying breaks out. Even so, we await our work patiently never letting our great looks disappear. As we all know — East Siders will "always be looking good."

Breaking for a pose.

Taking time out to check out construction ... workers.

Another one of those hard tests.

You've got to be kidding!

Respite for reading.

A penny for your thoughts?

Notes, notes, notes.

ON THE ROAD AGAIN

If we had to vote on the events that highlighted our Junior Year, many happenings would come to mind, but none as prominent as our class trip to the Taminent Country Club at the Poconos.

We welcomed the rest of the school to join us, and the turnout was more than abundant. Thanks to the careful planning and dedication of class advisor, Mr. Chill, and class officers, the trip was a delightful experience to all who attended.

Although there was a slight shortage of snow, skiing seemed to be one of the major attractions sought by everyone, running a close second was horseback riding. The indoor activities that were popular included, tennis, swimming, the steam room and sauna, dancing and of course socializing.

Another event that comes to mind is the tour of the United Nations, taken by Mrs. Marchetti's Honors English III class.

The group was guided through the nerve center of the internationally renown building; gathering facts and useful information to be used in the assigned class project.

When it came time to leave, no one wanted to go, the fun was just starting. We all wished that our stay would be extended, but in reality we had to return home, with hopes that next year we could once again repeat these trips and continue where we left off. Everyone in attendance agreed that the time spent was well worth it.

JUST A TOUCH OF CLASS

This year's fashion show began as cool and professional models paraded up and down the aisle of our stage in East Side's auditorium on March 19, 1982. It was perfectly titled, "A Touch of Class" and that was exactly what it brought to the school.

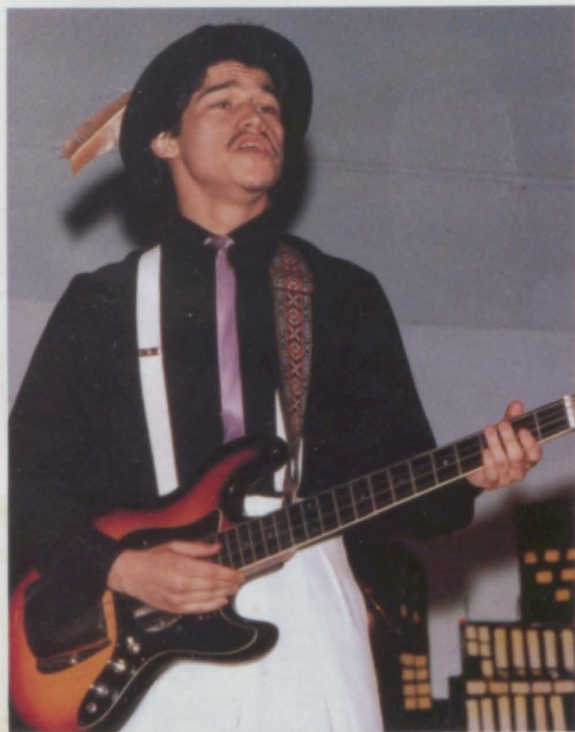

The fashion show was an excellent way to demonstrate what today's fashion conscious student enjoys wearing. It included everything from Prom dresses to sports outfits. Some of the outfits were, a three-piece vested suit worn by John Pereira, a pink chiffon party dress worn by Debbie Galante, followed by Melovee Baldwin, who displayed a white and pink mini outfit.

Helping to keep the evening lively, entertainment was provided by Tierra, The Go'Go's, Pat Benatar, Barry Gibb and Barbra Streisand.

The fashion show was an all round success.

Ever since East Side was opened in the early 1900's, it has prepared students for the demanding life to be encountered after high school.

Our present administration is keeping practical education alive by offering classes designed to educate students in skills beneficial to career and life preparation. The newest class available is Computer Math, which enables students to learn basic programming useful in today's growing world of computer technology. Other courses including General Graphics, Mechanical Drawing and Electronics, have long provided working knowledge to East Side Students.

As we begin to enter society, we will realize the usefulness of our education, the education that East Side has been providing for over 70 years.

We never did learn how to use the card catalog."

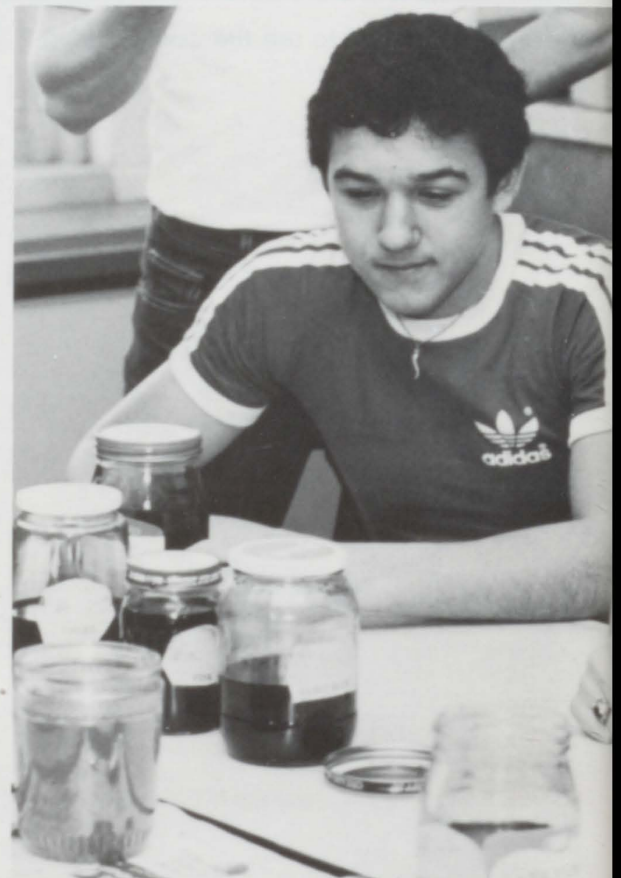

Making It In The Art World

I thought I was finished.

Watch your fingers.

When do I get my turn?

There's more than one way to use food.

Many think that art is an easy, one-sided subject, consisting of flat watercolors, dried up markers, and faded construction paper.

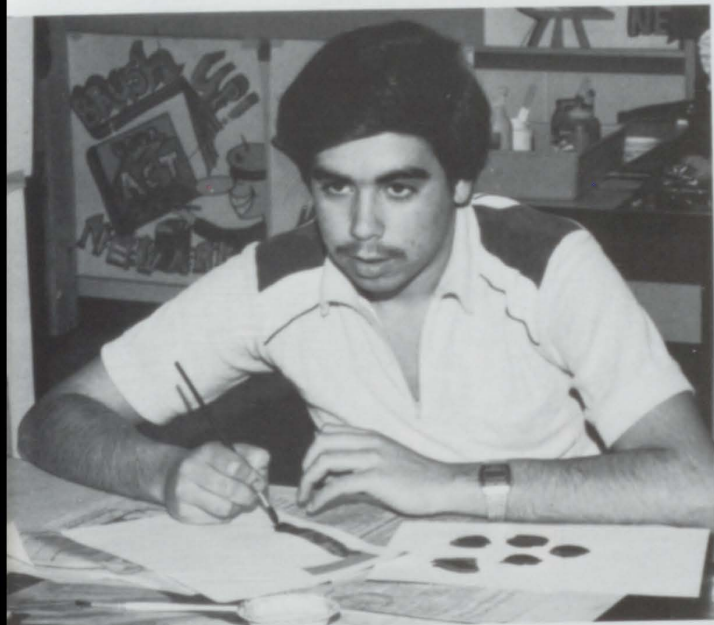

Fortunately, within the walls of East Side, art is treated as a multi-dimensional subject, with classes in Art Foundations, Photography, Commercial Art, Crafts, Drawing and Painting and Studio Art. Students are able to explore the many aspects of modern art and recreate the patterns and designs of ancient civilizations.

The addition of Photography exposed a new art form for East Siders to experience. Students develop their film and using techniques learned in class, print their negatives in the quiet of the darkroom.

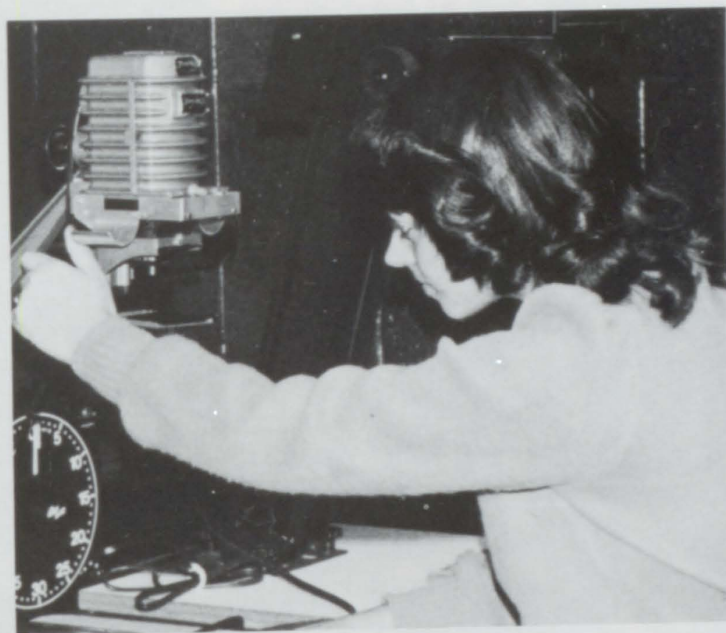

As part of Art Foundations, students study ceramics, and form clay objects, that are then fired in a kiln. Drawing expands the individual's talent in freehand expression, and craft's relates original and traditional techniques which then can be applied to make assigned projects.

Art is more than markers and cardboard here at East Side, our Art program blends a variety of informative and expressive skills, with enjoyable and practical knowledge.

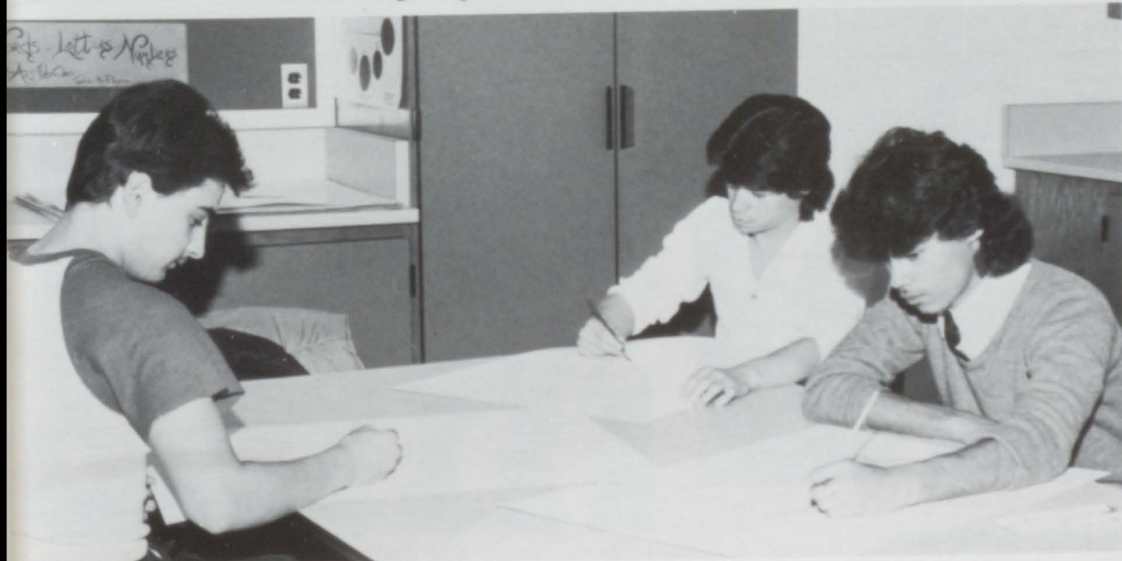

For years, we East Siders have been making it in the Art World.

Lost in thought.

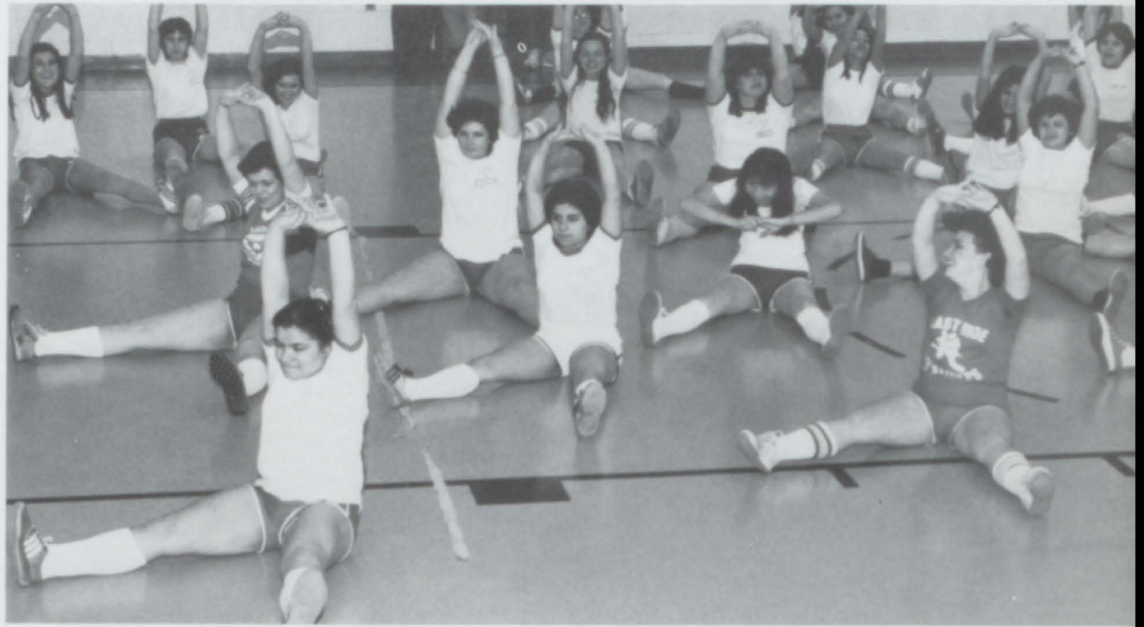

It's not working.

PHYSICAL THINKING

Let's get Physical.

Bend, and stretch.

Rhonda Gatlin, showing her talents in bowling.

Bowling for Dollars.

You, didn't even get one.

At this rate, I'll never get my license.

Everyone has some memories of times spent in the gymnasium and in health class. Whether it's sweating it out doing aerobics or struggling through a health-test, these are things we can all relate to.

To some, physical education is simply - "gym" - free time to run around, socialize and work-out, but not for Raiders. Here we regard Physical Education as a necessary part of our curriculum. Warming up, running in the park, playing one of the various sports, changing in a hectic locker room, and finally rushing to our next class. These are things every East Sider has gone through.

Health, including Driver's Ed., are the counterparts of Physical Education. In these classes we discuss ways to become aware of our mind and body.

Physical Education and Health are ordinary classes but East Siders manage to change that, here these classes are unique.

In health II class, we learn about first aid, the detecting and treatment of diseases. When Junior year arrived, we were ready and willing to start Driver's Ed. As the year ended nearly all the students had been awarded driver's permits for their hard work. In our health IV and final health class here at East Side a variety of subjects are taught to prepare us for the future.

I'd rather be on the road.

Who said, health was easy.

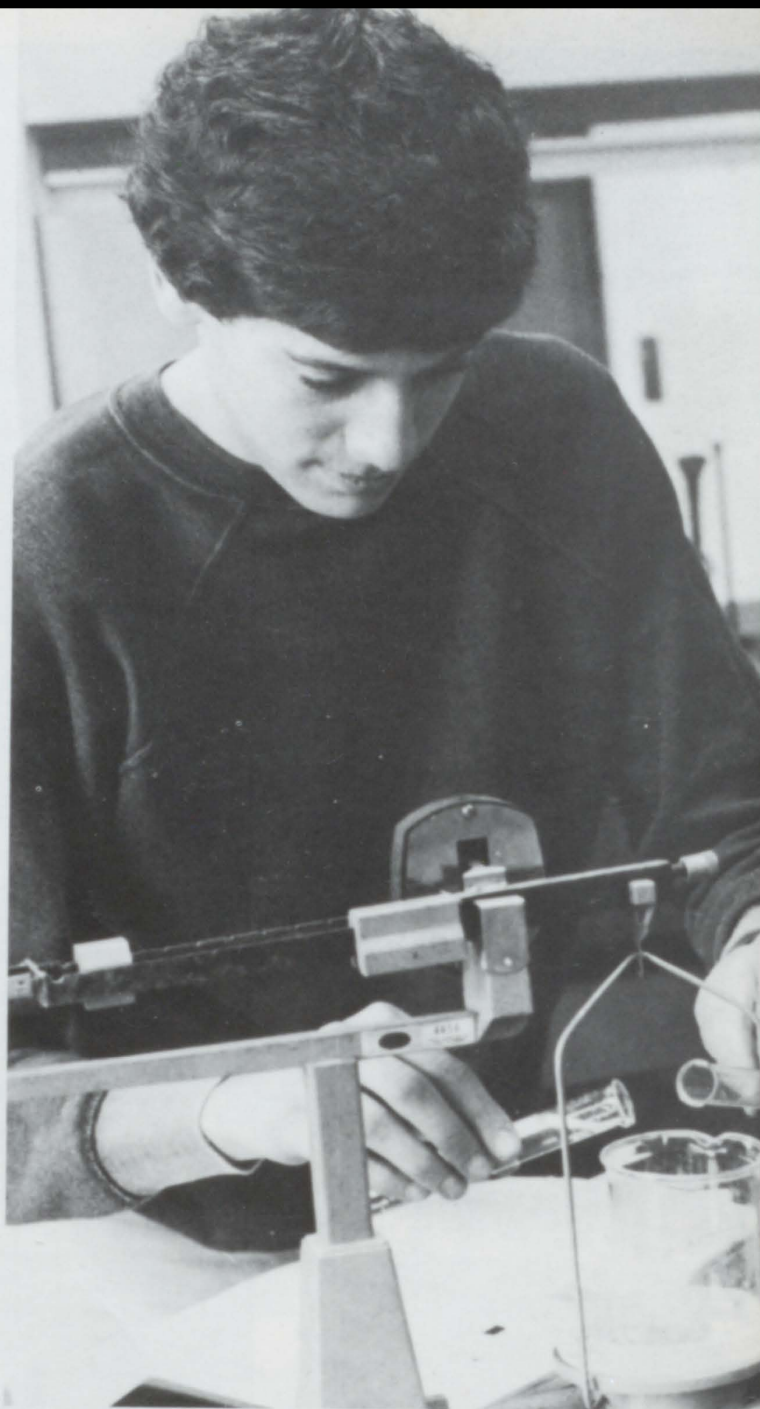

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY: TODAY AND TOMORROW

Looking back at East Side's past, you find that it was a high school of Technical and Manual Training. Today, that spirit is still carried on in our expanded technical shops and our diversified science program.

In the school year "82-83", new shops opened in building C, presenting students with the opportunity to work with advanced equipment in metal and wood shops. These, along with the already successful mechanical drawing, graphics, and electronics classes, offer students a variety of manual skills that can be useful in their future.

Over the years, our science department has expanded into many distinctive courses, including chemistry, biology, physics and laboratories, keeping up with college demands for required courses.

It will take our future chemists, physicists and technicians to design and make our dreams reality. It's all a skilled plan of action. We did our part and always made things happen.

A little of this and a little of that makes . . .

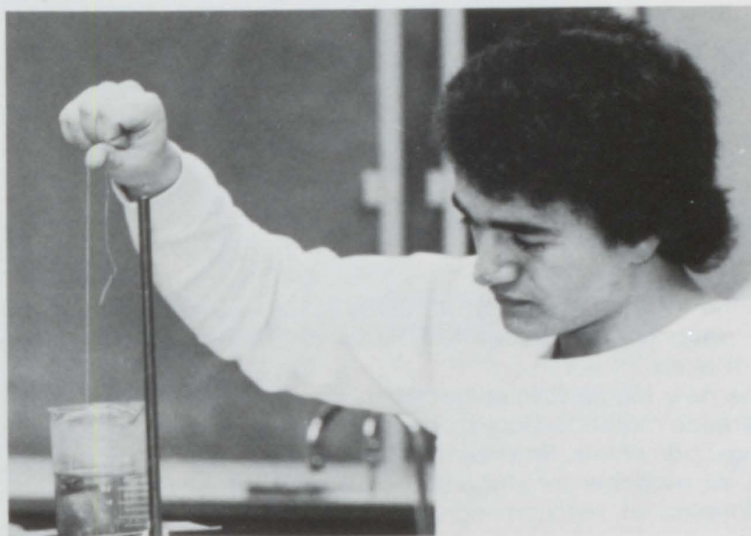

We need 1,983 copies.

Tough decision.

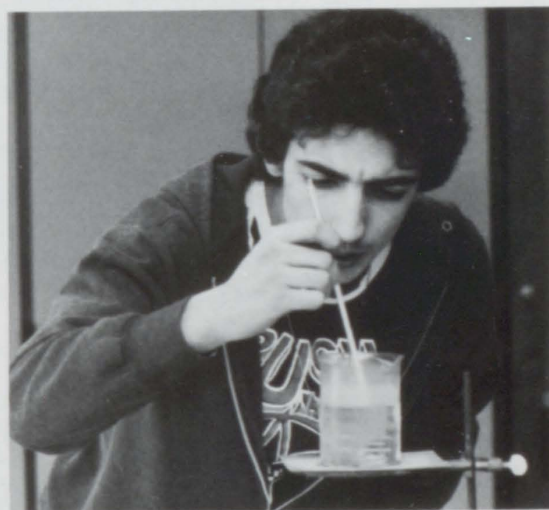

Now, very carefully add the water.

"For a little weight, it sure is heavy."

I should have cut today.

Where did the noodles go?

Now look Danny, this is how it's done.

MEDIA CENTER: NEW AND IMPROVED

In the fall of our Senior year, construction on the newly designed and relocated Media Center was finally finished.

The new Media Center boasts a large selection of reference materials, books, periodicals, newspaper clippings, pamphlets, filmstrips, records, filmloops and tapes, all available for student and faculty use.

Materials of historical significance and current events can also be obtained from the Center, as well as access to over 30 reels of microfilm.

Librarians Mrs. Shadowitz, Mrs. Gipson and Mrs. Johnson are ready to assist students and faculty in locating resource materials that will aide research, curriculum and/or personal interests.

The Media Center provides a quiet surrounding for students who wish to study or read during lunch or study periods, as well as an area for class learning. Students are acquainted with the Media Center and its many valuable interests. They realize and make full use of all that the Media Center and staff have to offer.

Upholding East Side's winning tradition is not always easy, but our dedicated athletes are constantly striving to obtain top honors as they represent our school.

Competing in varsity sports requires many hours of devoted training and practice. Such devotion has enabled East Side's athletes to be among the best in the city. We also credit the success of our sports teams to the quality coaching and support present in our school.

In our Senior year we were able to see our tennis, baseball and soccer teams capture city titles with winning attitudes and qualities found among all our athletes. We wish continuing success for all of our athletes and may they always be proud to say that they represent East Side.

AROUND THE DIAMOND

For girls softball, this season was one of the most productive years ever recorded at East Side.

Tabulating 229 runs, 246 hits, 171 R.B.I.'s and 15 homeruns in 19 games, the softball team gave life to the snow shortened season. Closely decided games with strong suburban teams Nutley and Millburn, also gave the team incentive to finish second in a competitive, hard-fought race for the city title.

Ample defense also backed up the offense, with the infield turning double-plays in crucial situations, the outfield cutting down extra-base hits, and a low walked percentage contributed by the pitchers.

Continuing East Side's winning tradition is not easy. It takes practice and determination to compile a winning season, qualities that are already present in coach, Ms. Werner and the softball team.

GRIDIRON GREATS

While professional football was on strike, East Side's team was not on strike in the hearts of our young athletes. Despite the long practices, the cleats dug in, the pads popped and the games began.

Under the direction of coach, Di Francesco and assistant coaches Travisano, Leonardis and Gould, the East Side Football team showed real potential.

However, the Raiders didn't win as many games as expected. Nevertheless, the dedication, desire, enthusiasm and-most of all-hard work exhibited by the team helped to overcome the scoreboard disappointments.

On the ice and off, the hockey team is definitely a credit to East Side. They exhibit enthusiasm and determination as they race after the puck down the ice. They practice long hours after school at the Ironbound Recreation Center with the help of coaches Mr. Blozen and Mr. Stenko.

Captain Bernie Lalley was named the leading scorer by the Interscholastic Hockey League. In the game against West Essex he scored two hat tricks snapping a 9-9 tie when he scored unassisted, leading East Side to it's victory. John Rodriguez, Bobby Strycharz, Ron Blozen and Ed Borger also scored.

The future of the team is very positive. They will only be losing one senior this year, which leaves a whole team of excellent hockey players to carry on the East Side tradition of being a great team.

Track

The East Side 1983 outdoor season was highlighted by some strong individual efforts, especially from our senior sprinters. The sprint team was led by Ricky Jackson, Thomas Fortenberry, Ocival Marques and Jose Macor. In all competitions these fine track men established themselves as premiere in sprinter class.

The Distance team was led by quality runners like Mario Branco, Jose Barros, Jorge Nolaui, Pedro Sousa, John Caamano, Gerardo Maceira and Frank dos Santos.

East Side supported a very respectable record of 10-3, although 1983 was considered to be a rebuilding year. The lessons learned through running for the Raiders track program reflect a lesson learned for life.

A runner's worth is judged by his contribution to the team. Efforts are not just assessed by the "win" column, but more in the real achievement of the individual sacrifice and dedication exhibited by the participant. It is here that running friendships and the spirit of brotherhood develops and grows. Congratulations to a group of fine runners.

Stepping Out

Cross Country is a team sport. You gauge your entire team's success according to individual performances. East Side seniors have dominated three of the top seven spots on the 1982 Cross Country team. The best all around performances came from Pedro Casqueira, finishing first for East Side in many of the invitational meets. Michael Santoro and Gerardo Maceira complete the senior threesome. These young men have turned in some very impressive performances under very difficult circumstances.

They were assisted by many talented underclassmen who will continue our Cross Country success. Mario Branco City Champ 1982, Frank DosSantos, John Caamano, Aurelio Simoes, Jose Barros and Fernando Santos. They are the best support runners on the varsity level.

Our season was a complete success. We enjoyed many excellent races from our whole team.

SERIES BOUND

Our 1982 season was a winning one, county championship, was a great win over Livingston in the county tournament. Then a win against Morristown in the state tournament enabled us to finish with an overall record of fifteen wins and six losses.

Honors were bestowed on Ronald Selecky, Antonio Fernandez and Frank Zayas.

Selecky was selected for the all city, all county and all state teams by the Newark Star Ledger. Antonio Fernandez pitched a perfect game against Livingston and consequently was picked as the outstanding athlete of the week, along with city and second team all county honors. Frank Zayas made Newark's all city team and all county third team.

There were other standouts on the team such as Ricky Gonzalez, a good baseman with a B.A. of 377, Carlos Rivera, a fine third baseman, Jose Vila an outfielder and catcher, Manny Benitez, outfielder-pitcher and subs Luis Alivarado and Joe Barreiro. The team is looking forward to a better 1983 season with a tougher schedule. Although we have lost some good players, the bulk of the team is returning along with some outstanding J.V. players from last season.

WINNERS AGAIN

The winning tradition continued this year with hard work as the order of the season. This years record of 13-3-1 was accomplished with good and hard performances by all players. Outstanding this year were Jose Rego as strider and defender. This year Rego was elected to the all county team along with Augie Vaz.

Other seniors that were outstanding were Rinaldo Cocito, the goalkeeper; Carlos Duarte, the stopper; Americo Oliveria, the left halfback; Tony Nunes, the defender and Elmer Solorzano the halfback.

The state sectional final was without a doubt, the highlight of the season. The loss of 1-0 to Vailsburg in the city league, was the low point of the season.

Overall team performed superbly with the talent and competition it faced.

The returning players look forward to another year of victories.

ACTIVITIES

There is more to school life than just academics. There are numerous clubs and sports in which the class of '83 has participated. Through these extra-curricular activities, we have learned to share the responsibilities of defeat as well as the glory of victory. Whether we cheer for teams or play an instrument in our band, we are still representing East Side and developing ourselves into what we consider a true East Sider. Although there have been some minor falls, we always manage to pick ourselves up and continue to give it our best shot, for anything can be accomplished if one really tries. Whatever the future may hold, the class of '83 will always make things happen.

Our Clubs . . .

Boricua

This club is designed to aid the development of Puerto Rican-Latino Youth. These individuals receive additional guidance and orientation on educational and career opportunities. Ms. Rodriguez, the club's advisor, also hopes to address the needs of the Puerto Rican-Latino Community.

Trips to colleges and museums are always on the club's agenda. They also attend conventions with other Aspira clubs to meet with fellow members and exchange views on both individual and community issues.

An annual banquet is sponsored by the club, where awards for scholastic achievement, and participation are given.

Mr. Klapholz demonstrating how to create beautiful Christmas centerpieces to members of the Botany club.

Botany

It takes more than just a "green thumb" to keep plants and flower arrangements looking their best. You need to know the proper care for growing plants, and the principles of flower arranging. This is exactly what you get if you're a member of Ms. Klapholz's Botany club. These students create holiday centerpieces and other arrangements. They have also begun to grow their own plants. If mother nature does her part of the job, the Botany club will sponsor a plant sale in the Spring.

Camera

These individuals meet with Mr. Cutrino to learn and apply proper picture taking techniques. The group takes field trips to find the most interesting subjects to photograph.

Their portfolio contains pictures from the New York skyline, Cherry Blossoms in the park to the Fashion Show.

The photographer's next trip is to New York, this time by Ferry boat. They plan to capture every moment on film.

Camera club: Ana Noda, Rosa Matos, Heddy Bartell, Mr. Cutrino, advisor, Carmen Rivera, Teresa Batista going over photographers at a meeting.

Computer club: Paul Flor, Chee Eng, Abilio Pereira, John Cunha, Maria Pinho, Maria Barbosa, Tony Silva, Jackie Santos, Helena Lee, Elmer Solorzano busy at work while Mr. Salagaj looks on.

Computer Math

Pac-man, Donkey Kong, Centipede, Frogger . . . We're being invaded! The video craze is affecting everyone, and East Siders are no exception.

Our Computer Math Club makes sure of this. Computer technology is on the verge of revolutionizing the world. The members of this club are truly part of this revolution. They plan to enter a statewide test, and compete against other computer clubs, with help from Mr. Salagaj, their advisor.

Their first job at East Side was to program our computers to tally senior ranks. This was a job formerly held by a staff member. Thanks to the clubs members' computer know how, we no longer have to look to the staff for help, we head straight for the computers.

Choir "J"

These are the famed vocalist of East Side. Under the direction of Mrs. Glover, the students are successfully involved in various programs.

Among them were a Christmas concert at East Side and Symphony Hall along with caroling in St. James Hospital.

The club is involved in an Opera Festival where 1000 state wide students meet to sing together. Of course our Senior Musical would not be the same without our Choir "J".

Stage crew: Eloi Cunha, Albino Reverendo, Jose Cunha, Troy Conshue and David Letts take time out.

Stage Crew

It's not magic that makes things happen at East Side's assembly programs. It's the stage crew that makes them run so smoothly.

Curtains open when they should and lights on and off at just the right moment thanks to this group of students.

They quietly run the entire program. We don't have to look behind the scenes to know the stage crew is doing their job.

Dance Band: Jose Periera, Ben Feliciano, Rick Segarro, Jeff Persetti, Alicio Mirando, Tony Matos, Jose Tavaris, Cris Oliviers, Jose Matod

Dance Band

Another way musically inclined East Siders can express their love of the art is by joining the Dance Band.

Mr. DeNoia, the band's conductor, concentrates on music from the Jazz era. They perform at our assemblies as well as those in local grammar schools.

The musicians are planning to attend a Count Basie Concert to motivate them towards ultimate perfection.

Honored East Siders

After all the hard work, hours of study, and determination to do their best, the Honor Society deserves an expressing round of applause. These students who receive the high honor of becoming members of the National Honor Society made East Side radiant with pride and honor.

Candidates are required to maintain a grade point average of 3.5 or better. Service to the school, participation in activities, and development of leadership abilities are some of the fundamentals that are highly stressed.

This year all 30 members of the Honor Society want to make things happen, and have already become organized to do so. They have held a cake sale which produced funds that will be used for future endeavors. Almost immediately after the induction ceremony new officers were elected.

Waiting for the ceremony to begin.

French

The French Club, says advisor, Mrs. Castanheira, reinforces in an informal setting, the customs and traditions of France and its people, learned in the language class.

In this manner, the student experiences the various aspects of the French culture in a more social atmosphere.

The members enjoyed a Christmas luncheon at a French Restaurant and celebrated Mardi Gras before Lent. Some members will also participate in the International Night program, as they have before.

The most prominent member of the club receives an award at the close of the year.

Debating

Research the material, find an angle, and then attack. This is the sequence followed by the members of the Debating club each time they are approached with a new topic. Mrs. Marchetti, who advises the group, aims to develop the art of debating among these members.

The team is presently debating intra-city schools, and will soon be involved in inter-city competition.

They are also eligible for awards offered by the National Forensic League for merit, honor and excellence.

Debating club: 1st row: Helena Lee, Maria Ribeiro, Teresa Maceira; 2nd row: Mrs. Marchetti, Manny Assena

Future Physicians

This is the club for the doctors of tomorrow. Mrs. Roberts is the club's advisor who stimulates interest in a medical career. Some members are doing science related projects for various fairs. Others are in the process of inviting speakers to discuss medical issues. The club is also involved in an exciting summer enrichment program.

FROM EAST SIDE TO BROADWAY

Some of the actors were pacing nervously and mumbling lines while others put the finishing touches on the set. Actresses checked their makeup and others attended to costumes and props. Then the director shouted, "Places everyone!" The movement and the noise came to a sudden stop, the lights came on, and the curtain opened.

The first of the three-one act plays was entitled "The Audition is Over". A daughter was torn between her protective mother and her pushy drama teacher. It was push and pull throughout the act. The suspenseful ending left the daughter's decision to the audience's imagination.

The curtain re-opened with a divorced couple in the midst of their so called "Amicable Parting." Ironically, the two continuously argued as they proceeded to divide up their belongings. The hilarious battle reached its climax as the two failed to divide up their dog, but a happy ending prevailed.

The final play opened with a 40 year old army recruit, doing his best to fail his physical and psychological tests. The comedy continued to amuse the audience, until he finally failed his tests. It ended on a more serious note. This recruit realized that he truly didn't want to fail. Rather he wanted to make a life for himself, perhaps the army was his only chance.

The entire show was an over all success. The actors and actresses gave performances comparable to off-Broadway productions.

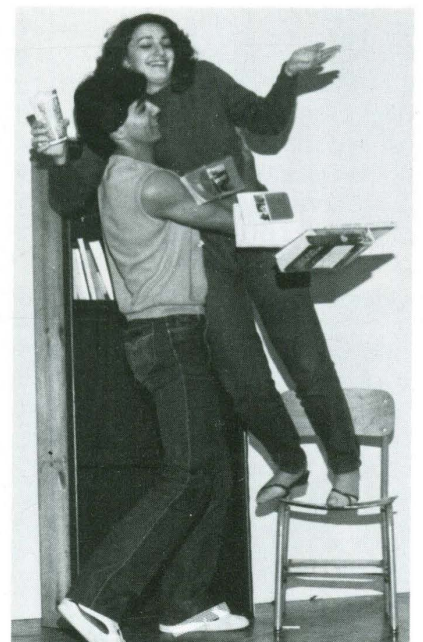

From the selection of the plays to the final curtain call, East Side's Drama Club is one of the most exciting, creative and rewarding classes East Side has to offer.

Gym/Weightlifting

"Pumping Iron" isn't the only thing members of the Gym/weightlifting club do. This is the group of individuals found in the universal gym after school grunting and groaning their way through their strenuous routines.

They look to Mr. Blasi, their advisor, for instruction about proper technique in using the equipment. It's also up to Mr. Blasi to convey the importance of weight lifting to an individual's health, strength and endurance in addition to the obvious, muscle development. It takes time and perseverance to make this group of guys the "muscle men" we know them to be.

History

It is often said that history repeats itself. The members of the History club are always investigating this theory. These are the individuals who meet with Mr. Malanga to discuss current events and their effect on society.

They plan to visit our nation's capital which will broaden their prospective of national affairs. They also hope to relive the historical moments of our nation's birth by visiting our birthplace of independence in Philadelphia.

Italian

The Italian culture is carried on here at East Side by Mr. Pontoriero and his club. The Italian club's purpose is to familiarize and extend the civilization and literature of the Italian people.

The group plans to take a trip to New York to see an opera and enjoy some of Italy's favorite foods.

... And More Clubs

Extra, Extra is what you get if you're reading the Announcer, our school newspaper. The talented members of the staff publicize the news in addition to highlighting student activities. One of the more clever of their features was a baby picture of a staff member, a "guess who" photo.

The members of this club receive excellent experience in newswriting and layout, thanks to their advisor, Ms. Pellerito.

Newspaper: Maria Ribeiro, Ms. Pelletria, Diane Lemos, Tony Caetano, Maria Resende, Maria Farinhas, Amanda Rouselle, Nilda Dominguez, Teresa Maceira

Nature

Our Nature club investigates the inside story of wildlife. They put on their hiking boots in search of the real outdoors. In former years, the club has visited places such as Stokes National Park, High Point and even the Appalachian Trail.

This year the crew is led by Mr. Rubas. He hopes to keep up with the club's standards and visit as many natural wonders as possible. His purpose is to give his members an opportunity to observe all the beauties of nature.

Portuguese

The mastery of the Portuguese language is the main purpose of the Portuguese club. Ms. Duarte, who advises the group, urges the appreciation of the culture of the country as well.

The active club has been involved in such activities as Mardi Gras, parades and East Side's International Night.

They also plan to enjoy the country's favorite foods by eating at a Portuguese Restaurant in New York.

The club awards an annual scholarship to the most outstanding Portuguese speaking student.

A real winter wonderland.

The East Side Ski Club had another exceptionally good year in that they had made several day trips to Great Gorge and Vernon Valley in New Jersey, and had a beautiful weekend in Londonderry, Vermont, at the foot of Magic Mountain.

This was the first time we had a three-day ski weekend — leaving very early in the morning — taking a picturesque five-hour trip of 250 miles from New Jersey through New York to Vermont — where we reached our destination at 1 p.m. On arrival the students were treated to a coke and cheese party, then disco dancing, playrooms, swimming, sauna and whirlpool baths, and many other luxuries. Their rooms had beautiful decor, such as fireplaces and refrigerators. Besides Mr. Afflitto, advisor, the party was also chaperoned by Mr. Wujack, and Mr. Wichkowski.

This trip was exceptional in that it was snowing while we were traveling to the Mountain. We had beautiful powdered snow for beginners making it easier for them to ski. The trip was marvelous. Most of the students knew how to ski, but those who did not were quickly taught and on the second day were skiing with the veteran skiers. Everyone had a great time skiing, riding the chair lifts up the Mountain, enjoying the beauty of the snow and having a lot of fun. This was our 7th annual trip to Vermont. With such a great time we anticipate having many more students and enlarging our ski club for the '83-'84 season.

Even the chaperons dressed up for the occasion.

A sparkling day in Vermont.

Active Involvement

Student Council

Here at East Side we have a government for the students, of the students, and by the students. It's our Student Council. The group of representatives hope to improve the image of the school in the eyes of those who attend and the community at large.

They have successfully participated in a fund raising drive for the United Way. Their newest idea is to highlight a student of the month. They will base their decision on citizenship and contribution in school life.

The group has Mrs. Matarazzo to guide them through all their endeavors.

Youth Leadership

The youth of today are the leaders of tomorrow. The members of the Youth Leadership club are fully aware of this fate, their future.

Mr. Fiore, their advisor, intends to induce proper leadership to these members. Among their activities was a Christmas food program designed to help the needy of the Community.

They also plan to visit the State Legislature in Trenton to get a true understanding of the works of our government ... A government they'll soon be a part of.

Classical performance.

Soft sounds.

Orchestra

Mr. Sutera is the fine conductor of East Side's Orchestra. He has dedicated his time and energies to this group, preparing them for their various performances.

They are certainly an important and entertaining part of our Spring concert. They also bid farewell to our graduating seniors at graduation. The unending hours of practice, practice, and more practice definitely pays off.

In addition, to the orchestra, Mr. Sutera also directs the guitar group. This is another fine group made up of musically gifted individuals. They specialize solely in strumming this rhythmic instrument. Performing in both the Christmas and Spring Concerts entails continuous practice. These guitarists feel that all their hard work is absolutely rewarding.

It's 7:35 in the morning, with sub-degree temperatures outside. The yearbook staff has been hard at work for some time now, selecting pictures, writing captions, and reliving the scenes of our four years. The deadlines speed by, but we manage to make them somehow. It was our "extra class", as Dr. Pellegrino, our advisor so aptly put it. An extra class with plenty of homework as the staff members recall. It was in the spring that The Torch 1983 began to come together. Meetings were held every day and decisions were made.

We decided the theme would be based on our '83 logo "Makings Things Happen." The Class of '83 will always make things happen, which is why this theme is so appropriate. It was up to the yearbook staff to make things happen in this book of memories. Now, after early morning meetings and lots of hard work, our dedication payed off, we finally made this yearbook happen.

Making The Cheers

Our cheerleaders are the energy and enthusiasm of East Side. They are continually pushed to their peak of perfection by their dedicated advisor, Ms. Werner. Unending practices, and injuries major and minor never seem to discourage them. Cheering both football and basketball seasons helps in supporting the teams as well as their fans. One can always find our cheerleaders making the cheers.

Timing, precision and overall coordination are what makes the Colorguards what they are. Their twirling rifle routines are the main attraction at football games, parades and assemblies. The hours of practice, spent perfecting their customary moves and composing new, more exciting routines often left them with swollen wrists and bruised bodies. Yet they would never let up. Their devoted advisor, Ms. Favata made sure of this. The rehearsal of a single routine a dozen times a day was not unusual. Nor was the humming of a routine's song unconsciously during class. After all of this, not one member of the squad would forget their purpose: To guard their colors.

The Spirit of Red and White

Through wind, rain and extremely cold weather conditions, the flag squad and Twirlers continue to smile. Their hours of practice and unrelenting determination to support their school spirit, enable them to make half-time performances happen. The rain can often hinder parade turnouts, but not ours. This same group of people marched proudly, with their uniforms drenched throughout the inclement weather. It was their sense of duty that pulled them through. Ms. Favata is the advisor for the twirlers, who are now strutting new uniforms, while Mr. Grant advises the Flag Squad, well as choreographs the drill team.

Our marvelous military drum majorettes guide the entire marching unit as well as impress our viewers. This is East Side's way of saying, "Look out world, here we come!"

Born With The Beat

It's our marching band that is the central core of our entire marching unit. Without their love of music and musical know how the unit could not be the success they are. Under the superb direction of Mr. Paul Palumbo and with added help from Mr. Grant, the band is becoming one of the best in the city. It's up to our band to make the events they participate in successful, such as half-time performances and pep rallies. The band continues to practice after school until they feel perfection is reached.

"EAST SIDE ON 5TH AVENUE"

It was a beautiful Sunday morning when the East Side Marching band and accompanying squads set out for New York. They were celebrating Pulaski Day while representing East Side High School in this 5 hour parade. After arrival in the city they awaited their turn to march off. Our devoted and energetic band did not have the heart to put down their instruments and quietly wait, rather they kept our temporary corner of the world alive and kicking with their continuous beat. When our turn came to march, however, East Side shaped up and gave New York a real taste of what they're made of. Those who attended this parade so aptly put it - "East Side Rocked New York."

Keeping in time.

Getting off to a good start.

Here we come.

"MAKING A SPLASH"

"Let's go for a swim." But on October 29th, in 50° weather? Even so, some East Siders found it very easy to say such a thing. It was the senior class splash party held at the Holiday Inn.

In addition to splashing around, a full hot and cold buffet was served poolside throughout the evening. Along with swimming and volleyball, disco dancing was also available. Battling the dancers were the rock fans blasting their radios in competition. Another popular attraction was the sauna, there was nothing more cooling after a visit to the sauna, than a dive into the pool. Who could forget the events of that evening, everyone truly had a wonderful time.

NEW YORK ... AN EXPERIENCE

Students from Mrs. Matarazzo's Honors and C.P. English four classes visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art and The Cloisters on October 27th. Their Trip focused on the medieval time period.

The group began the day with an independent tour of the museum. This was an experience in itself. After lunch the group reassembled and proceeded on to the Cloisters.

There the students were divided and taken on a guided tour. This authentic castle was a true portrait of life in medieval times. The trip gave the students the needed background for complete understanding of this period.

“ENCORE, ENCORE!”

“We will be on assembly bell schedule today.” This is a familiar statement made by each of our homeroom teachers at one time or another. The first question asked by most of us was, “Is the assembly for us?” Depending on the answer, our reactions would vary.

One of the more rowdy of our assemblies would be the pep rally. The squads of girls and football players are given the opportunity to give the audience a sneak preview of what happens during the football season. Manny Benitez and Speedy Pereira always enjoy the rallies as much as everyone else involved.

Pep rallies have always been a way for East Siders to support their team.

They are another way we show our Raider Power.

“Back For a Visit”

December 6, 1982 meant more at East Side than just — Another School Day. It was Richard Wesley Day.” Richard Wesley, a famous screenwriter and playwright is also an East Side Alumnus. He enjoyed visiting his alma mater to share his secrets of success. Throughout the assembly, Wesley was surprised by former teachers as he relived memories from his high school days.

The movies “Uptown Saturday Night” and “Let’s Do It Again”, both starring Sidney Poitier and Bill Cosby are among Wesley’s box office successes. His plays, “The Mighty Gents” and “The Sirens” must also be counted among his major accomplishments.

We were truly honored to take part in Richard Wesley’s homecoming. This is but another success story, one of many more to come.!

A DAY IN KING ARTHUR'S COURT

The members of Mrs. Matarazzo's Honors English IV class were known as the lords and ladies of King Arthur's Court on January 13, 1983. This class as well as other classes were involved in the annual Medieval Festival.

The festival opened with a procession and introduction of the lords and ladies with their new names. Following, was a super performance of "Sir Gawain and the Green Knight." Finally, authentic Medieval refreshments were served.

The costumes were true replicas of the originals worn during this time. Each individual researched the period before making their final decision on what type of dress, tunic and head gear they would recreate. The same was done with those who prepared the food.

The Medieval Festival '83 was an unforgettable experience for those involved in the performance as well as those in the audience. I do not think any of us will ever forget the day John Belo, better known as the Green Knight lost his head!

EAST SIDES FOUNDATIONS

At about 8:00 A.M. each day our principal Mrs. Maria Cardiellos begins her day.

This consists of important meetings and various calls. Both of which seem in some way to help her make decisions regarding the workings at East Side.

Mrs. Cardiellos is now in her second term as principal. During this time, she has become aware of the many aspects required of her in the position of a high school principal.

She is always willing to listen and discuss the concerns and needs of our student body and faculty.

We will always remember her as a kind and polite lady who had a deep interest and concern for the class of '83.

Starting off the day with paperwork.

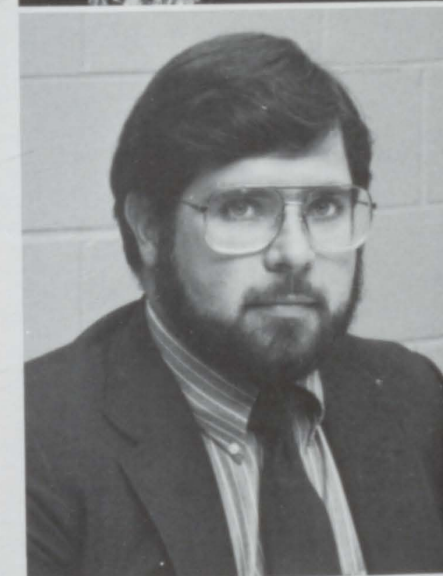

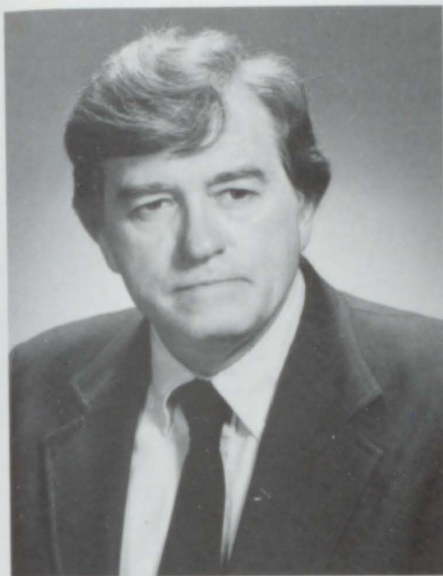

Mrs. Cardiellos, proudly displays her award.

The special moment for every graduate.

Members of the cast from West Side Story happily take time for a picture with the principal.

The administrative team at East Side consists of Mr. Chagnon, Mr. Martin, Mrs. Palotta, Mr. Sena and Mr. Wujciak. This is a very helpful, understanding, and well-liked team.

Mr. Sena is always ready to help you with schedule changes. Mr. Martin and Mr. Wujciak are extremely interested in the students well-being. Always ready to report to the Van Buren St. exit is Mr. Chagnon, who is being paged on the P.A. system. The newest addition to this team is Mrs. Palotta, she has recently been named vice-principal.

Without this well-organized and caring "team", East Side could never maintain its image as the "best" school in Newark.

Inspirations To Creativity

The motto used by the class of '83 — making things happen, could not have begun without the help of our creative art department.

Over the years, East Side has trained and encouraged some very talented students. Through the efforts of the art department staff, we are making things happen.

For example, art is helping to improve our school atmosphere. Murals have been painted on the walls, in order to showcase the special talents and skills of East Siders.

In addition to painting, drawing, crafts, and commercial art, photography has become an added attraction offered to East Side students. It is just one more example of the efforts, by the staff to develop the talents of East Siders.

THE BEAT GOES ON!

Our music department consists of only four faculty members, but they are the best. These four members give their all to assist our talented students in making things happen musically.

Mr. Sutura, in addition to music classes, is the director of the orchestra. With his help every year, East Side's orchestra projects perfect sound, especially during graduation.

Mr. DeNoia, is the director of our jazz band. Look out Count Basie, DeNoia's moving in!

Mrs. Glover, is in charge of choir J, chorus and never creates anything but the best productions for East Side viewers. No one could possibly sing the Star Spangled Banner with more pride and excellence, than our chorus and choir J.

Making most of our popular music is our school band which is led by Mr. Palumbo, who also teaches band class to E.S. students. Mr. Palumbo puts in long hours of hard and dedicated work in order for our band to perform. They make half-time exciting and pep rallies fun!

Therefore, the beat always goes on at East Side High.

Two Are Better Than One

To many students entering East Side, English is a foreign language. These students are from the many diverse cultural backgrounds that make up the student population of East Side.

Because of the assistance needed by these students, East Side has developed an meaningful Bilingual program in which students are instructed in English while tutored in their native tongue.

It is with the help of our Bilingual and English as a Second Language instructors that students who were previously lost in a world of foreign communications can function, learn and enjoy life in a new society.

TODAY'S BUSINESS SKILLS: NOT ONLY A WOMAN'S WORLD

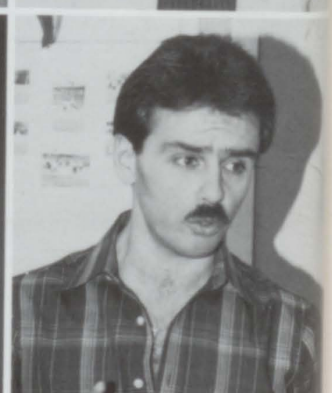

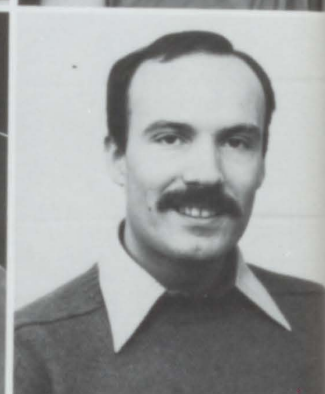

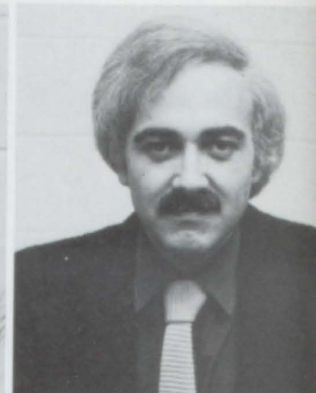

Even in today's rapidly expanding world, business skills are still stereotyped as "women's work."

Here at East Side our business program, which includes typing, stenography, bookkeeping, recordkeeping, and business machines has always been open to the male population. Today after years of transition, men are frequently found in all of our business courses, and are proud to participate. Our diverse business faculty is well-educated and experienced to deal with the problems of today's competitive world.

They offer our students the best possible preparation and knowledge that enables them to go out into the business world and make things happen.

IS ENGLISH NECESSARY IN TODAY'S WORLD?

When people think of English, they think of diagramming sentences, adjectives, nouns and pronouns. At East Side it is a great deal more. It is research, reading, creative writing, acting and performing.

Our English department gets the most out of each student, by requiring book reports, research papers, and various writing assignments.

A special event held every year is the Medieval Festival. This Festival is part of Mrs. Matarazzo's English IV classes. For this festival, we make costumes that reflect the particular part that we play in the production.

Our English teachers also help in preparing us for the annual S.A.T.'s. They review important areas such as vocabulary and reading comprehension.

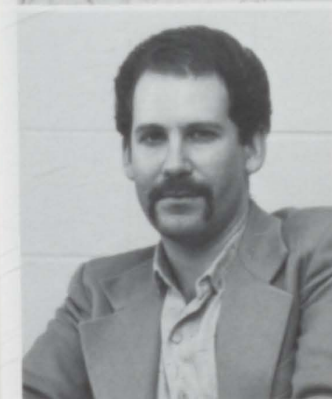

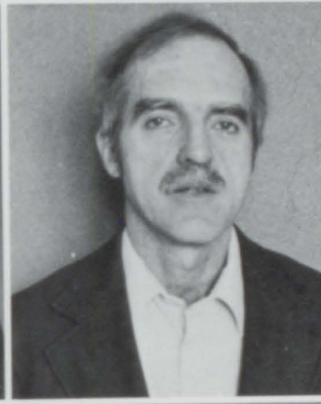

Is English necessary in today's world? - Here at East Side it is an important aspect of our education.

Sandy Garcia, lost in special thoughts.

Mr. D'Errico doing his best, to get information given out.

MULTI-LINGUAL EDUCATION

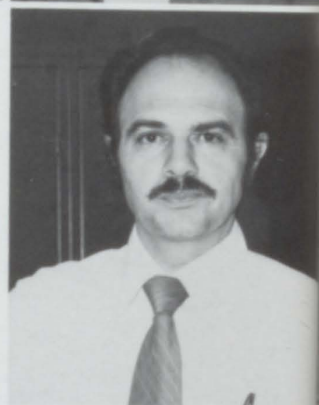

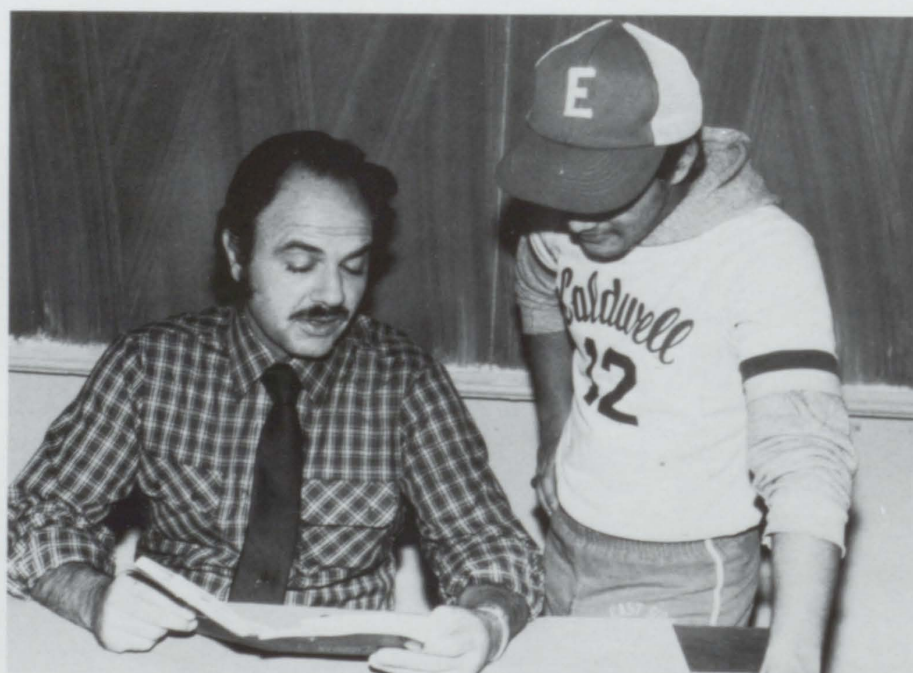

Language is a major part of communication in today's world. Here at East Side we are more aware than others about the importance of a second language, because, our community is rich in multi-ethnic cultures.

East Side's language faculty enriches students in the structural and cultural aspects of highly used languages, among which French, seems to be the most popular. Following closely are Italian, Portuguese and Spanish.

Many of our faculty have European backgrounds which enables them to transfer their knowledge of foreign society and behavior directly to the students. By past record our students respond to the multi-dimensional approach and succeed in this world of diverse culture.

Our Guidelines In Life

Can you remember freshman year? Meeting your counselor for the first time. Tensely and nervously, you knock at their door, and they welcome you with a warm smile.

The years seem to fly by as senior year comes around the corner, you and your counselor seem to be the best of friends.

Much of your free time is spent at the guidance office, going through catalogues, and discussing your future plans. As a senior your counselor becomes very close to you, they influence your college plans and tell you what is available in terms of scholarships and financial aide. They take the time to learn what's important to you and what you really want. They are caring people, who want to help you achieve your goals.

Our senior counselors, Mrs. Figuerido and Mrs. Truskowska will definitely not forget the class of '83. As our counselors they may have gotten a little grayer, but we can never thank them enough for all they have done for us.

ONE STEP AHEAD

Home Economics is a subject that will influence us throughout our whole lives. It consists of cooking, sewing, fashion and consumer education. One of the many important facets of home economics is the information gathered about the working environment.

In order to prepare us for our "working future" we can elect to take a work study in which students can earn credits for participation in class and for holding a part-time job.

Our Home Economics teachers strive to prepare students for their future lives by providing information as well as experience. By the time we graduate, our classes, especially Home Economics will have prepared us to deal with the future successfully.

CREATING TOMORROWS

We make T-shirts, drawings and even calling cards. We also learn how to make silk-screens and transfer them on to shirts, paper and jackets. To us, a multitude of different technical subjects are available; such as graphic arts, mechanical drawing, woodshop, metal shop and electronics.

Each and every one of these things is a part of the complete technical department open to anyone interested. The faculty is friendly and always willing to lend a helping hand. So, if your interested in or planning to enter a technical field, select your classes, and come in to gather knowledge and experience. Then go out into the world and help create tomorrows.

WE'VE GOT YOUR NUMBER

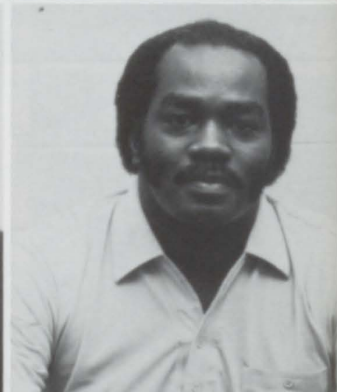

In today's world of complicated advancements mathematical knowledge is needed more than ever. Algebra and computational skills are found increasingly necessary to keep up with day to day work loads and problems. Occupations such as: secretaries, accountants, computer programmers and engineers have a common requirement: the ability to function in a world of numbers.

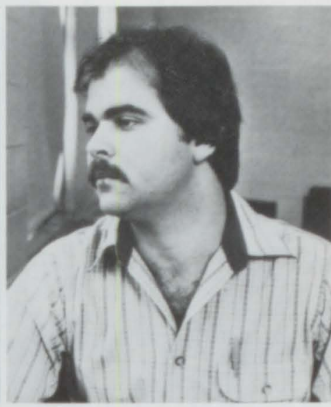

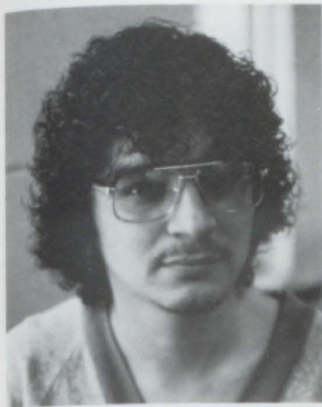

Our administrators at East Side understand the increasing need for mathematically prepared students, and offer a wide range of preparational, business, and advanced courses such as Business Math, Computer Math, Geometry, Trigonometry, Advanced Algebra, Analytical Geometry and Calculus, to help fill our need for extra knowledge.

Books alone do not educate students, our Math teachers see that we receive the knowledge that lies between the lines. We as East Siders feel honored to have such dedicated and professional teachers make up our Math department.

SOUND BODY, SOUND MIND

Our Physical Education department offers some of the most beneficial exercise and health classes to be found in any school.

Health classes consist of a wide variety of material from first aid to drug, sex, and driver's education.

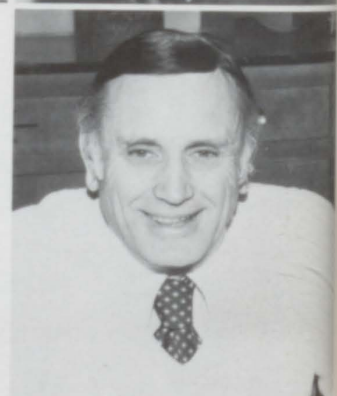

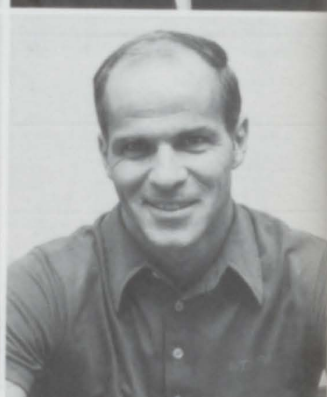

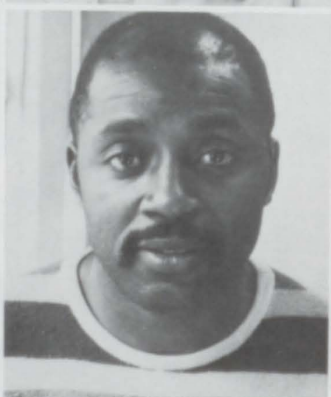

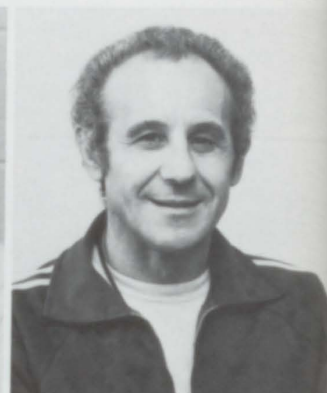

Driver's Education class is composed of both licensed drivers and novices. It seems a bit funny, learning that the driver should yield to the pedestrian.

Physical Education, on the other hand, is really terrific. We have the most physically fit instructors you can imagine.

Mr. Dickerson and Ms. Werner always keep up the pace they set for their students. Physical Education is not just "gym" for East Siders. Our excellent faculty makes it a fun and learning experience for us. Their hard work is never taken for granted. The students, accept and appreciate this fact on their behalf.

Potential Energy Turns To Kinetic Energy

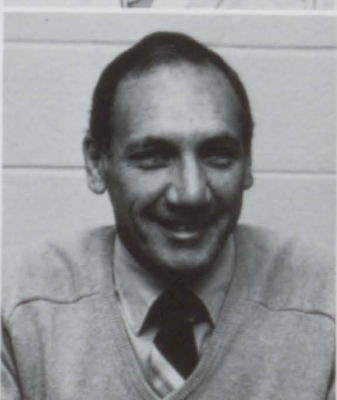

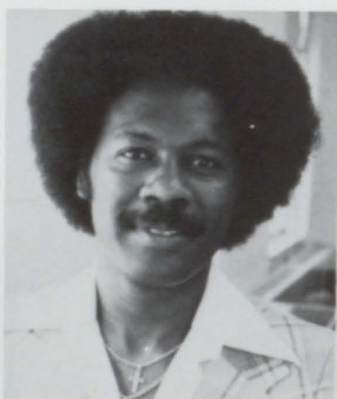

Our Science department consists of educated, experienced instructors. They inform us with their talented skills and caring ways. From page 1 in Physical Science to page 500 in Modern Chemistry, they make learning informative.

Some students choose to make Physical Science part of their schedule. It gives them a basic knowledge of many science theories. Biology which is taken in sophomore year, gives us a background in animal and plant environments. As juniors, in Physics class, we learn about acceleration, speed, and velocity. Senior year adds Chemistry to our schedules and Chemistry relates to the elements found in today's world.

East Side's science faculty feels all students possess potential energy. They believe we can make the most of ourselves. With their encouragement students make the potential energy into kinetic.

THE PAST, THE PRESENT, THE FUTURE

History at East Side consists of World History, U.S. History, Psychology, Sociology and the additional Honors Courses.

In these classes the world's past, present, and future is reviewed, criticized, and analyzed. We become aware that we, the future generation, have much to say in the world standings. There does not have to be a nuclear war, nor do we have to live in hostility with other nations. With determination and dedication peace can be established.

But it has to start somehow, somewhere, someplace, and history teachers everywhere, not only here at our school, try to teach us that we must learn from the past, correct our present, and work for a better future.

MORE THAN SPECIAL

Special Service occupations at East Side are just as they say, "special". Special to each and everyone of the students in many different ways.

Our project teachers, Mr. Moscatiello and Dr. Lindgren, are very conscientious. They teach chapter 1 reading and math, giving extra help to students who need to develop skills in these areas.

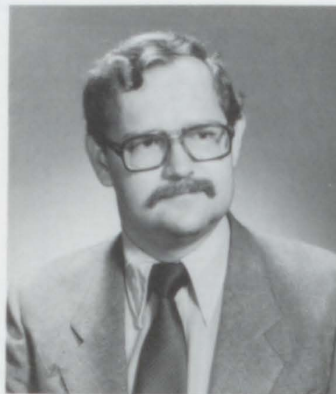

Mr. Wichowski, our school drug coordinator, is concerned with helping students develop a better self-image. He encourages students at East Side to have a more positive attitude. He also informs the student body about the negative aspects of drug abuse.

Mrs. Bloch and Ms. Sheridan, our school nurses, have one of the most responsible jobs of all. Throughout the school day they treat and advise many students regarding various health matters. They provide assistance with physicals as it relates to jobs and sports activities. Our nurses are concerned with our health. They recently were the top campaigners for the "Big Smoke Out."

Mrs. Vernie Young, is the Remedial Reading teacher. Her job is to help those students who wish to develop and improve their reading abilities.

Speech therapy classes are held three days a week under the direction of Mr. Henry Grant. He works with those students who need assistance with stuttering, speaking fluently and relating with confidence to others.

Mrs. Olga Lopez bilingual testing coordinator, and Ms. Rodriguez, service worker, are concerned with the needs and abilities of all East Side students. Their work directly benefits both students and their families, alike.

WORKERS BEHIND THE SCENES

Our cafeteria staff are always striving to give us a well balanced meal. Many more students are utilizing the cafeteria because of the expanded facilities provided at East Side. We are very grateful for the time and effort put into making our lunch times enjoyable.

On the other hand, over the past years East Side has undergone changes involving various aspects of construction. Throughout these changes, our custodians have helped keep our school a clean and safe place. Their seemingly endless jobs require both hard work and strong dedication. Together they carry out their jobs impressively.

Another group concerned with keeping our school safe and secure are our security guards. They have worked hard and diligently in carrying out their responsibilities. The class of '83 salutes them for a job well done.

It's here. Senior year has finally arrived. All the endless hours of studying, cramming for exams, failing to get home early on school nights, school activities and the many friends we've made are just a few examples of the accomplishments and memories experienced at East Side. We have worked hard together at attaining our goal to become the upperclassmen. Yet in the midst of all these endeavors we shared many moments of mixed emotions never to be forgotten. Senior year is the year we will remember most, the year most important in our book of memories.

SENIOR SUM UP

Mr. Chill and Senior Class Officers.

Unique personnel? Yes! East Side? No! Martian University! (Please see Mr. Malanga for details, catalogue, application and financial aid forms.)

Yes, we do have unique personnel at Martian U. We will start with our ingenious Math Department. Hi Travs! Visiting the staff today is Euclid's best friend, Mr. "E.T." Travisano. Known for his careful dressing, such as multi-colored sneakers, coordinated ties, reversed T-shirts, and various "Pez" candy dispensers, Travs has set a new standard of fashion for "G.Q." editors. Travs also owns, operates and resides at a posh, exclusive resort known as "Tar Beach."

Also in the Math Department we find Ms. Favata, senior calculus teacher and world record holder for the most "standard and general forms" of conic equations. It is safe to say that "She wrote the book".

We cannot depart without visiting Mr. Salagaj, who single-handedly is responsible for the most assignments that lapse into lunch periods and studies. Yes, Mr. Salagaj, we're making like trees and leaving.

Over in the astute Science Department, we find Mr. Leonardis and Mr. Ciccone, two with enough caffeine in their bloodstreams from 2nd period chemistry to make Storm Field cry. Ah yes, Mr. Ciccone's finishing school", we were definitely finished alright.

Now let's not forget Mr. Zoppi, the record holder in the Science Department. He is the world record holder for the most corny jokes...

Skiping over to the abundant English Department we find Mrs. Matarazzo, consumed in discussion about yet another "Festival". Wait! Here's Mrs. Marchetti, interrupting 1st period again to debate with her debating club about attending today's debate — "O.K. Teresa and Maria?" We can't forget Ms. Sage, rock consumist, #1 Rick Cerone fan and holder of many "Moody Blues" memories — Rock On!

In the History Department, we've already mentioned Mr. Malanga, founder of Martian U., so we'll move on to Mr. Rubas. Remember the "Pineapple" Mr. Rubas? How did you ever get it down from that light? Who put it up there? Who really won the Spanish American War? Mr. Rubas, Tony Olivera and Michael Santoro are in "Boobie's Hall of Fame."

Moving along, we find Senior class advisor, Mr. Chill, still recovering from the effects of the Senior candy sale and Poconos Trip. Mr. Chill has held East Side together for many moons, he finds more children of students he previously taught each year.

In the Gym, volleying for vendetta with Ms. Steele, is dedicated softball coach, Ms. Werner. Ms. Werner is best remembered for her accurate chronographic wrist watch — "We still have 10.01 seconds left to go to class..."

Finally shuffling through "needs to be proofread" copy, is yearbook advisor, Dr. Pellegrino, known by the yearbook staff for her dislike of "cute" pictures, captions and articles. Dr. Pellegrino will be receiving "The Golden Papercutter Award" from yearbook publisher Mr. Petrucci, for years of faithfully cropping pictures to every extremity.

Can this be the end? Never! Is there possibly more? Here? Maybe, but not now, although the editors of this yearbook guarantee the appearance of more another year. Ever hear of the phrase — "HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF"?

Mr. Chill, Senior Class Advisor.

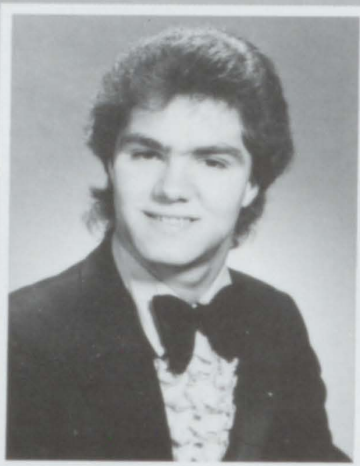

A PERFECT 10

Rounding off the "top 10" of the graduating class of '83 is Virginia Zacarias.

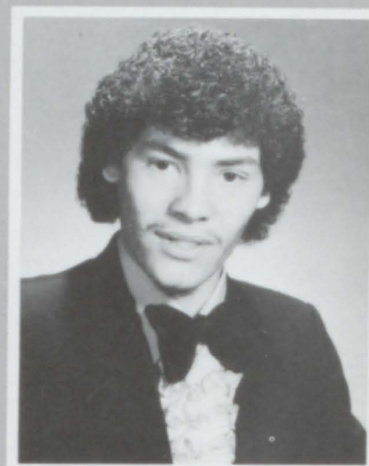

Virginia, an East Side Colorguard and Honor Society member, is also involved in various clubs including History, Explorers, Future Physicians and Nature.

In her spare time she is also busy with community activities, mainly the Ironbound Educational and Cultural Center and the Youth Council, and occasionally works in the family grocery store.

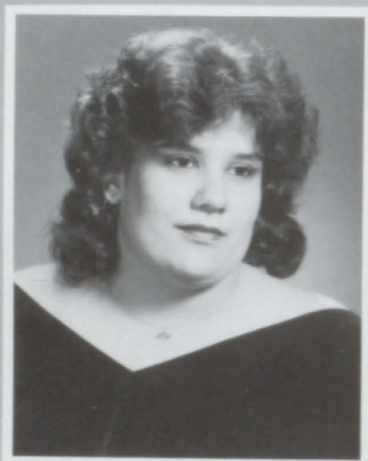

In the coming years, Virginia plans to attend college. She is interested in a dentistry program. To her we leave the wish of many future advancements.

MARIA BENATTI

In today's society of self-concern, not many people can profess to accounts of righteousness. Senior Maria Benatti, feels otherwise.

Maria's concern for her fellow students earned her the 1982 "Human Rights Award". She held a cake sale to raise funds to bring music to the cafeteria during lunch periods.

Her efforts for the people of the school were commended by Newark Mayor Kenneth Gibson and the Director of the Human Rights Commission, at a reception held at Essex County College.

Maria plans to attend college and study Medical Technology and when she finishes her education, she would like to apply her skills by working in a local hospital so that she may continue to serve her community.

The "A" Team.

As the Newark Coaches Association began choosing players for the '82-'83 All-City Football Team, they came across seven (7) members of the East Side Raiders; Ray Kesting, Manny Benitez, Ron Boyce, Manny Lado, Randy Ortiz, John Pereira, and Greg Inman. These out-standing young men were chosen for the following positions respectively; 1st team offensive line, 2nd team running back, 3rd team split end, 3rd team offensive line, 3rd team offensive line, 3rd team outside line backer, and 3rd team safety.

When interviewed and questioned on - How to become nominated for this exclusive team - the above members stated "Excellent plays, dedication to the sport, and recommendations by respective team coaches." Whatever the necessary requirements ... Congratulations to all!

Just An Average Teenager?

A participant in French, Explorers, Computer, History and Nature clubs, as well as membership in the National Honor Society has enabled Maria De Pinho to successfully capture the ninth "top 10" position.

Maria, apart from all her school activities also belongs to the Ironbound Educational and Cultural Center, Youth Council and tutoring program which helps students from 1st through 8th grades who might be having difficulty in any subject area.

Maria, is not decided about her future plans career wise, but she has chosen to attend either Montclair or Rutgers University.

Like many of today's teenagers, she has an unshakeable addiction to soap operas, especially General Hospital. She also enjoys puzzles, no matter what size or shape.

Our wish is that every part in her life will fall into position creating a complete masterpiece.

Each year preceding the graduation ceremonies, an outstanding event takes place called "the passing of the torch."

It is conducted by the Senior class president with members of the Junior class participating. A large brass torch is lighted symbolizing the traditions, principles and values established by past graduates of East Side High School.

As the Junior class officers receive the torch, they accept the challenges and responsibilities that have been established throughout the years and pledge to continue these traditions.

There are many talented Seniors graduating in the class of '83. Gina Lobo is no exception.

Gina's talent and interest in drawing and painting led her to take Saturday morning classes on a Scholarship at Rutgers University arranged by Dr. Pellegrino. Her classes consisted of Graphic Design I & II where she designed logo's, letterheads, catalogues and advertising layouts for magazines.

Gina possesses great skill in drawing and hopes to pursue a major of Graphic Design at a post-secondary art school or college.

An Extraordinary Individual

Number 8, Ana Oliveira, has always displayed an amazing talent with paper, pencils, paints and other artistic tools. To this day, Ana has won at least two first prize, and numerous 2nd, and 3rd placements for her entries in contests; all of them paintings.

During her 4 years at East Side this talented individual has taken part in many activities. Among her list of memberships are: Drama club, Portuguese club, Newspaper staff, Homeroom Representative and Student Council. After reading this you might think that she would go home and relax, but no. Ana has a part-time job in a doctor's office, and is also President of the Ironbound Educational and Cultural Center's Youth Council.

With all these accomplishments, we are positive she will succeed in her chosen major. College is but another stepping stone on the way to a professional career. Good Luck always and much happiness are our wishes for this extraordinary individual.

Business Bound

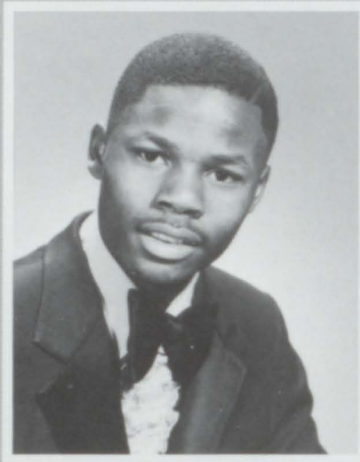

Finishing seventh this year in Dalia Pacheco. Dalia describes herself as a consummate soccer fan, following closely her favorite teams. Her other hobbies include crocheting, cooking and shopping, but Dalia does not seem to have all the time she would like, to pursue these interests. Her job at Coutinho's Bakery demands most of her after school hours.

Dalia had become proficient in dividing her time, between her job and after school activities such as the History and Nature clubs. She also maintains a high scholastic average in the National Honor Society.

After graduation Dalia wishes to pursue a career in business. She is not sure about the college she will attend, but her major will be business administration. We all wish Dalia luck and happiness in all her endeavors.

HAROLD PROTT

As anyone associated with a publication knows, a good photographer is hard to find. We the staff of the '83 Torch are fortunate to have the services of Harold Prott.

Harold's pictures can be seen throughout the yearbook. If we were to credit each shot, the list would accumulate to many pages. Besides his endless assignments for the yearbook, Harold has taken pictures for the school newspaper, fashion show, splash party and he also received The Best Photographer Award for his entry in the Teen Arts Festival.

Harold plans to pursue photography after graduation by attending a college associated with the arts. He also hopes to become a fashion photographer and perhaps have a business of his own someday. Good luck shutter bug.

SAT: COLLEGE MIGRANE

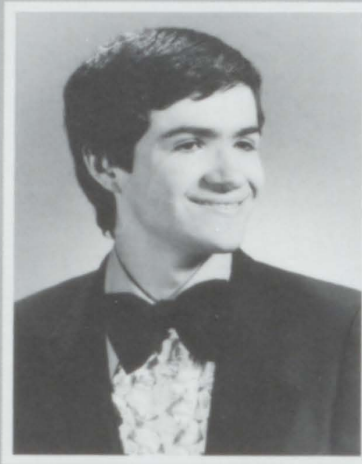

Research pays off.

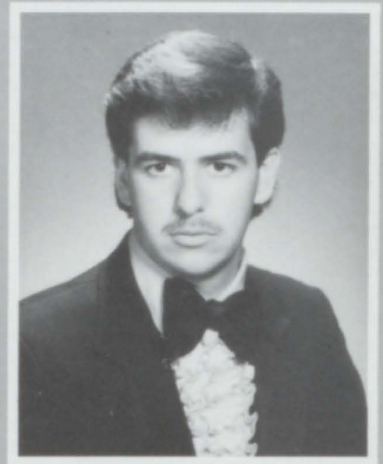

Probably one of the most important tasks a Senior faces is preparing for college. Throughout our last year we have filled out countless applications, attended frequent meetings with college representatives, visited the xeroxing machine enough times to publish a book, and most importantly, taken the College Board's SAT's.

As we all know a good SAT score is hard to come by. Many students enroll in weekend courses to brush up on their skills and improve their chances of getting an exceptional score. Others purchase various text on "faster techniques to fill in dots", also hoping that their pre-test concern will benefit the final outcome.

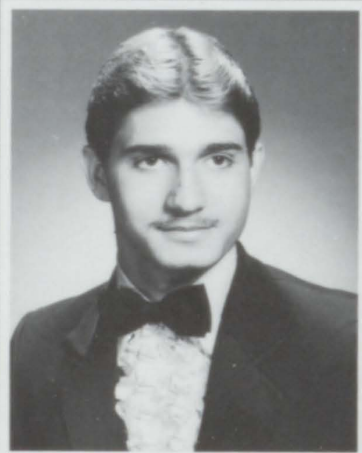

When "the day" approaches students enter the testing center with mixed fear and apprehension - and also with 3 lead pencils sharpened to perfection. As the time ticks on and the test begins, all other thoughts disappear, and attention is focused on achieving the best possible score.

Barbosa actively took part in a number of clubs, including: French, History, Nature, and Future Physicians while holding the position of Treasurer in the National Honor Society.

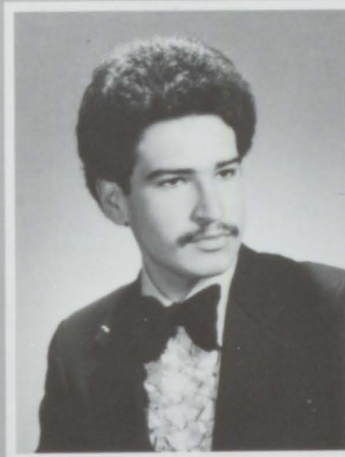

But, her involvement doesn't stop when she leaves the school. After work in a Ferry Street store, Maria is also a member of the Ironbound Educational and Cultural Center Youth Council.

Maria likes children and pets, she has a cat named Lena. And as anyone who knows her can confirm she loves "DIMPLES".

During this year's open house, the National Honor Society held a successful bake sale.

Thanks to the participation and dedication of the society's members, they were able to raise sufficient funds towards future expenditures. A great variety of caloric food was enjoyed by all.

The National Honor Society receives no funding from the Board of Education, therefore the gallant effort by the members was greatly needed and appreciated.

East Side was among 32 schools asked to participate in this year's Rutgers Bowl, a high school student quiz program.

Seniors Helena Lee, Harold Prott and Chung Ho, and Junior Chee Eng competed for East Side against 4 students from an all girls school from Bayonne, New Jersey.

Our team put up a good battle, but unfortunately were defeated in the last half of the program. The day was not lost however, the students embarked on a tour of the Rutgers campus, led by Dr. Lindgren and sampled college life for a day.

Half-way down the list, at number five, we find Rosemarie Pinheiro, President of the Honor Society, and member of many school clubs and activities including: History, Nature, Future Physicians and Portuguese clubs.

But involvement in school activities and studying to maintain excellent grade point averages isn't the only difficult assignments that take up this young lady's time. A part-time job at a doctor's office occupies the remainder of Rosemarie's already busy schedule.

The future, Rosemarie says, "is a little more complicated to organize." She plans to attend college, but whether here or in Europe is undecided.

Regardless, we are certain of one more East Sider's triumph in the future.

Throughout this year, many East Side seniors have become licensed drivers, joining thousands of others in Newark trying to get "that last remaining parking space."

For those who have waited 17 years to legally get behind the wheel, all is not easy. Problem one: getting a car. Are you gonna use the family car? It's a race for the keys. Any gas? Better stop at the Exxon station. Any gas money? No, well back to the bicycle. Problem 2: so you've got your own car! Congratulations! After the insurance payments, the maintenance and the gas, you have no money left to go anywhere. Well you can "cruise" around the neighborhood and pick up members of the opposite sex! Huh? Use up thirty dollars worth of gas on a car that gets 7 mph around the neighborhood? Back to the bike again.

By the time the golden age of 17 arrives, we realize that you can not go far with inflation. The gas pump is a dependant alone, not to mention the insurance man. We must be sending his son through college! Working after school for some extra money just isn't enough. Cars should come equipped with self-financing. Maybe on the 1984 models, right next to the talking Datsun's.

Plans For The Future ..

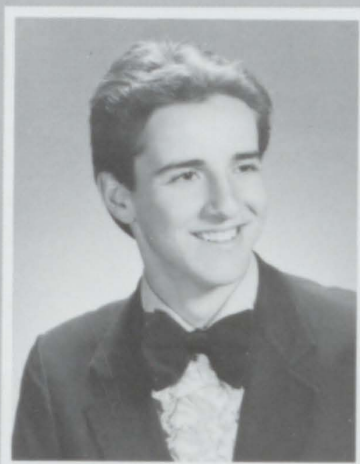

Finishing fourth in the graduating class of '83 is Maria Da Cruz. Maria has been a colorguard since her sophomore year and boasts a large scale of activities: Future Physicans, Explorers, History, Honor Society and co-editor of the '83 yearbook

Maria's activities do not stop at the 2:30 bell. Along with a part time job at a lawyer's office, she volunteers many hours of her time to tutor at the Ironbound Educational And Cultural Center.

Friends describe Maria as a very helpful and unselfish person, which is easy to see.

After graduation, Maria plans to pursue a career in the health field. A career in nursing or anesthesiology seems interesting at this time.

We wish Maria the best of luck and good fortune in her future.

Coming in number three was not easy but Heddy gave it her best and came out on top. As co-editor of the '83 yearbook she became accustomed to deadlines and racing against time. Her many softball games helped to coordinate mind and body, membership in the National Honor Society challenged her active brain, and participating in the various clubs kept her on top of everything.

Heddy has always planned ahead, so she has taken her time and chosen a career. In the Fall of '83 she expects to enter a five year college course and study pharmacy. As yet she has not picked a specialty, so she will start with general classes; but who knows where the future may take her. May her future be filled with her every wish, and the completion of started plans along with the realization of desired goals.

Lalley Plays Hockey All Out

Bernie Lalley, captain of the hockey team and only senior, is without a doubt, one of the most important players on the team. The 180 pound 6'0" tall center, was selected as the leading scorer by the Interscholastic Hockey League. Bernie contributes leadership to the team and enjoys helping the other guys develop their skill.

He scored two hat tricks in the game against West Essex along with three assists, leading East Side to its (10-9) victory. Tom Wichowski, in his first year as coach, of the East Side team said, "Everyone connected with our program has such great respect for the kid, he is a super person, to say nothing of his hockey ability. I am glad I had the opportunity to coach him." He most definitely has had an outstanding season.

In 1982 one of the most popular Saturday morning cartoons set the stage for a large market of merchandise. "The Smurfs" cartoon caught the hearts of millions across the nation, including senior Patricia Plitnikas.

Patricia began collecting "Smurfs" soon after they were introduced. At present count, she owns 87 of those optimistic blue trolls, which comes close to a collector in Delaware who owns 128.

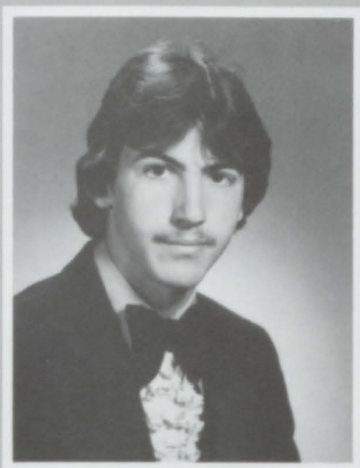

No one can really pinpoint the major feature of attraction possessed by "Smurfs", only that they're "cute" creatures who have a maxim called Smurfy's Law, which goes - "Everything that can go right, will go right." So far, it has.

Cindy Homiek

Cindy Homiek, this years Valedictorian has set high standards throughout her four years at East Side. Involvement as well as academics has always occupied her free time. Cindy was the Junior and Senior class president, she became a Colorguard in her sophomore year, advancing her position to Co-Captain, and finally Captain in senior year. A member of the National Honor Society, Club editor of the '83 yearbook, and a participant in various clubs throughout her high school years.

Cindy plans to attend a State College, but her major is as yet undecided, but we know that she will give her best to whatever comes her way.

We take this time to offer congratulations and wish her luck for the future.

Winner All The Way

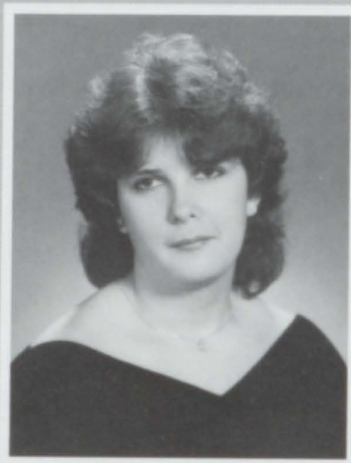

Augie Vaz

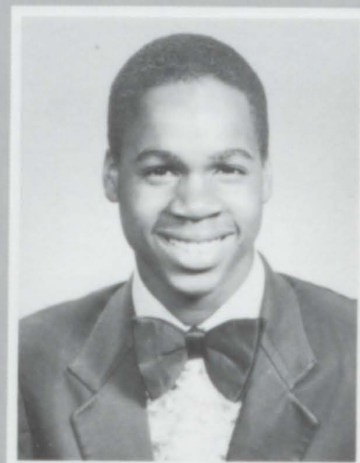

Augie Vaz, one of the most outstanding players on the East Side soccer team is most definitely a credit to the team. This defender showed off his excellent skill at every game and practice. He is considered a well rounded player.

Vaz not only displays excellent skill, he also has very good leadership qualities. Because of his leadership, he was chosen Co-Captain.

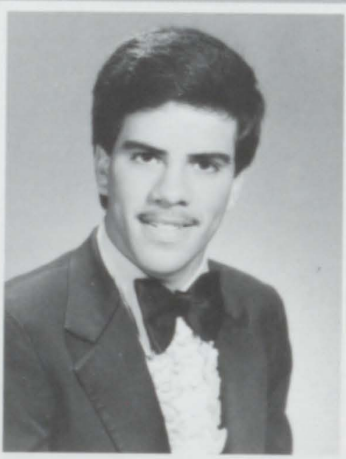

East Siders weren't the only ones who took notice of this exceptional soccer player. He was chosen for the Condus all county team and the Star Ledger all Essex third team. His skill and dedication was well appreciated.

During Youth Art Month which is always in March, many district students exhibit and perform in the Newark Teen Arts Festival which is held at the Newark Museum.

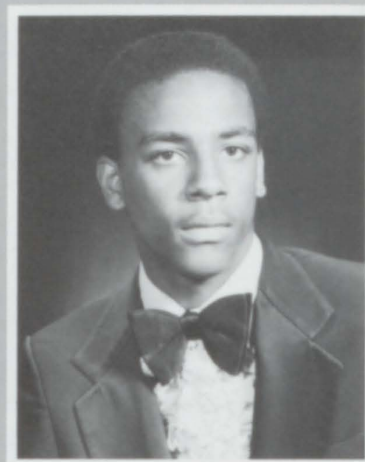

Plays and choral ensembles are staged by East Side students as well as by students from other Newark High Schools. On display for all to see and enjoy are various art and photography entries that include drawings, paintings, photograms, collages, mosaics, sculpture and mixed media.

Seniors Gina Lobo, Hedly Bartell and Harold Prott were among the many honored recipients who represented East Side High in the arts program.

RON SELECKY

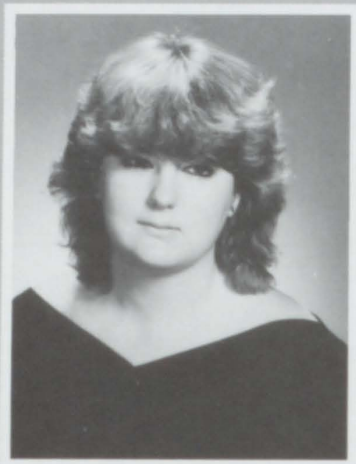

Seniors Ronald Selecky and Tony Fernandez were two good reasons why the East Side High School baseball team had such a good season in 1982. The team had won the Newark City Championship with a record of 12 and 2 and an overall record of 15 wins and 6 losses.

Ronald was outstanding as the teams centerfielder, batting an incredible average of .506, to add to this fantastic average Ronald compiled a 20 game hitting streak along with 30 stolen bases in 31 attempts. His statistics speak for themselves, 40 hits, 11 doubles, 1 triple, 1 home run, 17 RBI'S and a slugging percentage of 1785. In his Junior year Ronald, along with Tony Fernandez, was selected as The outstanding Junior Baseball Player. Due to his accomplishments he was selected for 1st team honors on the Newark All City Team by the City Baseball Coaches. He also was selected, by the Newark Star Ledger, for 1st team All Essex County and 2nd team All State in all combined groups. After the 1983 season Ronald will pursue his athletic and educational career at Seton Hall University.

Tony Fernandez, another standout, excelled as the team's ace pitcher and designated hitter. Tony's statistics as a pitcher were excellent. His overall record was 8 wins and 3 losses with 23 earned runs in 60 $\frac{1}{3}$ innings giving him a 2.7 earned run average and .727 winning percentage. Tony struck out 54 batters and gave up 29 bases on balls. The highlight of his pitching career with East Side was during the Greater Newark Tournament against Livingston when he retired all 21 batters he faced, resulting in a 2-0 win and a perfect game for Tony.

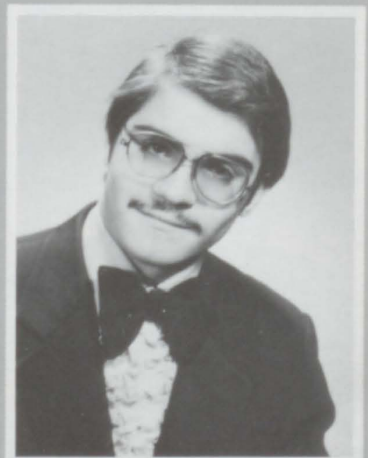

Due to this accomplishment Tony was selected as the Boy Athlete Of The Week by the Newark Star Ledger. Tony also was given all City Honors and 2nd team All County by the Newark Star Ledger.

Tony Fernandez will accompany teammate Ronald to Seton Hall University.

Has anyone ever stopped to realize that lockers are more than just for holding books?

1. A locker is a conversation piece: "Do you know that idiot took my locker away again"!
2. A locker is a display board: "Put Springfield's picture next to Tom Selleck." "OK, but which one?"
3. A locker is a point of destination: "Meet me by my locker."
4. A locker is a form of self-expression: "My locker is the one with the incense and side to side carpeting."
5. A locker can serve as an outlet: "Listen kid, put your fist through the locker again and your head will follow"!
6. A locker can serve as public storage: "Yeah, you can put your book in, but remember what it looks like, 12 people share this locker".

For all the good things locker are, there are two major downfalls:

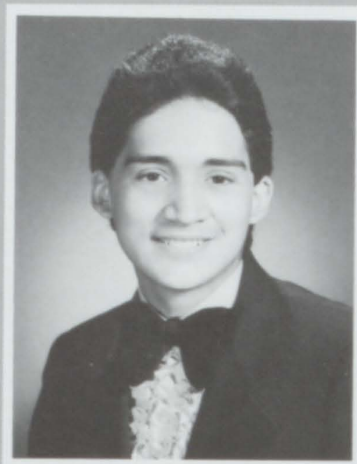

1. They're never where you need them: "My — locker is all the way up on the — fourth floor."
2. They're never large enough. "What! Don't open the door, there's an avalanche behind it"!

Good or bad, not many could survive without a locker. Specially when you have a 3" History book, 2" Chem Book and a 3 1/4" English Lit. book to lug around.

LOCKER 83.

Halloween, Baseball, Babe I'm Going To Leave You, Rock Group, Hanging Out

Turning over in the warm pile of blankets, trying to shut out the insistent blast of the alarm clock, wondering why the alarm was going off at such a ridiculously early hour - memory hits - Today is Monday, February 7th; the trip to the Poconos!

Hop out of bed, dress and finish packing, meet friends and make it to the front of school before 6:30 A.M. And what do you know, it begins to snow. This trip is going to be fantastic. Pack into the buses, sit back, relax and enjoy the ride.

The place is gorgeous, the ski slopes, swimming pool and other facilities excellent. Well, maybe the rooms were far away and the service could have been better, but the desire to enjoy was present - and despite some inconveniences enjoy we did.

The Poconos trip to Mount Airy Lodge: A day few missed and none will forget.

FINAL REFLECTIONS

The year 1983, both in the community as in the world has brought both hope and despair. There have been deaths and births, disputes and compromises. We have survived the problems in Poland, war in the Falklands, trouble in San Salvador; we have witnessed anti-nuclear demonstration, assassinations, learned of a new royal heir and so much more.

But through all the thick and thin, rushes and lazy moments we're happy to know that 1983 is our year. Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow - all belong to this year, and this year belongs to us.

Mass exodus.

TEACHERS AND PARENTS MEET ...

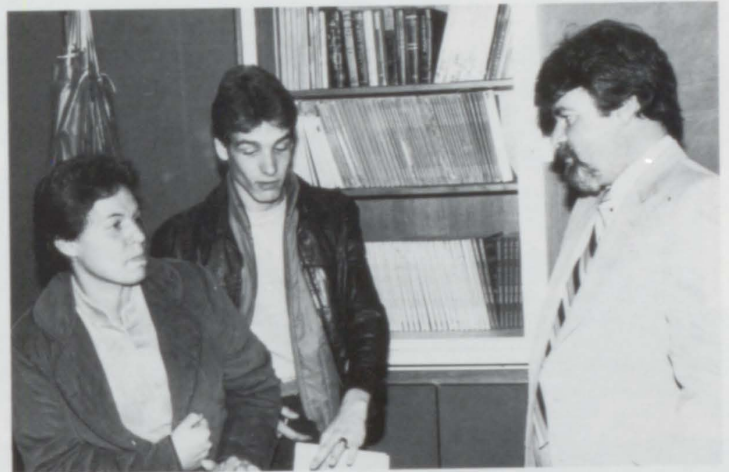

November of '82 surprised most East Siders. On a regular school day, all homeroom teachers announced to their classes that to receive report cards we had to come, with our parents, to the school's annual Open House.

With this information, and some displeasure the Open House began. At 7:00 p.m. that night, parents and students entered the lobby of East Side High. Meeting first in the auditorium, then going to each homeroom and classroom, parents were given the opportunity to meet teachers and discuss the academic progress of their son or daughter.

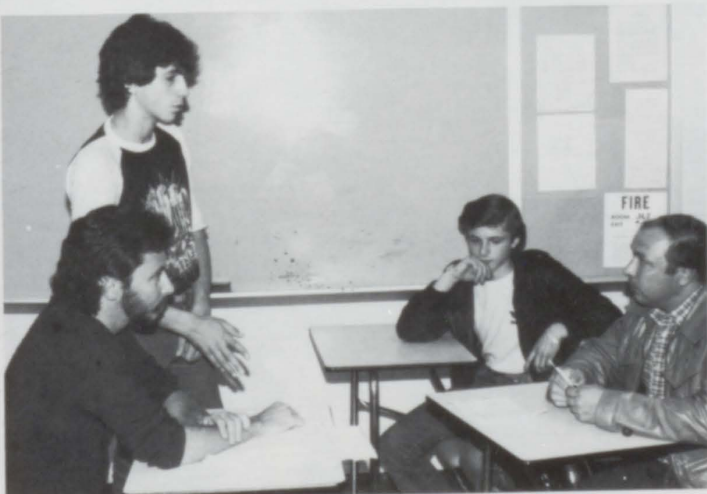

On the whole, this was a most rewarding and successful evening for all involved.

International Night: Multi-Ethnic Festivities

Kim Johnson and Norman Daniels make quite a pair.

The attentive audience encourages the performers.

Time to savor the delicious food.

Carol Pilch in her beautiful costume.

Hard to choose.

1,2,3, jump in step.

Over the years East Side has become a collection of various ethnic backgrounds. This fact leads to the acknowledgement of why International Night has become so successful.

This year festivities started off with Polish dancers from the Central Jersey High Boot Polka Club located in New Brunswick, New Jersey. Starting out as a social club they have continued to grow and develop into a professional dance group performing all over the East Coast.

These dancers in their colorful native costumes performed many different types of dances before an enthusiastic and warm audience.

Aside from the lively dancing, the other attraction that night was the huge quantity and quality of ethnic foods displayed for all to sample. For the mere fee of $2.00, one could enter the celebration and enjoy all the delicious foods, as well as all the other charming displays.

All in all, the many ethnic backgrounds that united to create International Night were extremely successful in making it a night truly worth remembering.

This says it all.

Special Aspects

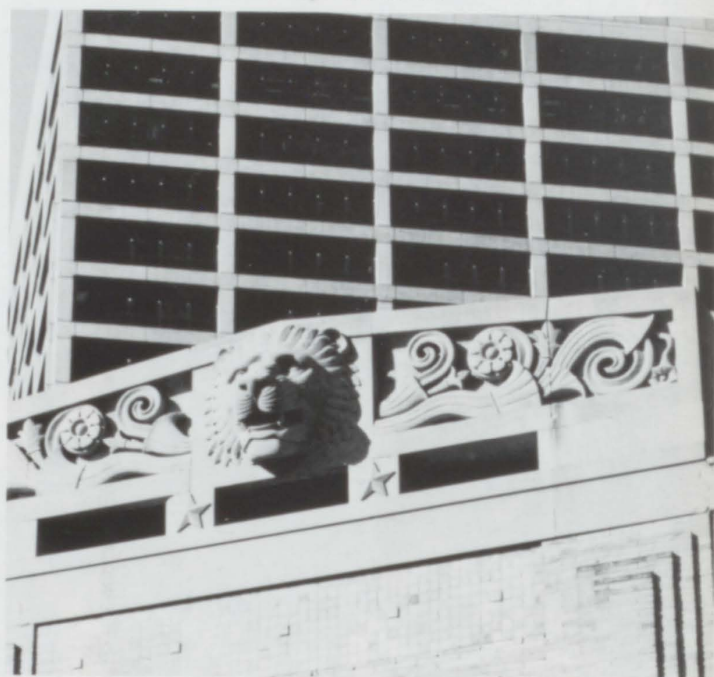

Sign of Community togetherness . . .

For the greater part of our lives we, have lived, played, learned, laughed and even cried within the confines of this community. By now every sidewalk and corner store has been discovered and explored to the fullest.

But, as graduation approaches, and most of us face the possibility of going off to schools and colleges outside of our immediate area we begin to ask ourselves what has changed? What has remained the same? Were the street signs always like this? Have the buildings always been there? When we look back and remember the buildings and churches that are no longer a part of our environment we begin to realize that the special aspects of our community are changing.

Still, the old world beauty has not all disappeared, if we look closely enough statues and special aspects of this community can still be found. These special aspects have always been here, but why haven't we noted them before? Could it be because as young adults we have begun to understand that to leave this place behind is to leave a part of ourselves. This community is made-up of us; we are this community. Hopefully, we will always be, for a long long time to come.

CREDITS

When the final deadline was met, we logged over 250 hours in preparing this year's book. Those 7:30 a.m. meetings everyday really paid off. This book has the most pages of any yearbook so far.

Now that we have a few minutes, we'd like to say thanks ... To Mrs. Cardiellos for her understanding, to Mr. Sena, for finding us a typewriter that worked ... to Mr. Wujciak for his superb help with clubs ... to Mr. Chill for his utmost cooperation ... to Ms. Pannuello for use of the copying machine ... to Ms. Morasco and Ms. Saratelli for the various lists ... to Ms. Cifelli and Ms. Caamano for their special favors ... to Mr. Alayon for use of his photographs ... to Mr. Lardieri, Ms. Figueiredo, and Ms. Truszkowska for much needed information ... to the coaches, whose help and information always help make the sports section fun and accurate ... to the club advisors who gave of their time to provide us with answers ... to Mr. Fiore for the sports schedules ... to Ms. Vetter, of Lorstan-Thomas for her assistance.

Thanks also goes to the administrators, teachers, and students who gave of their time and talent to help us complete this book.

A very special and sincere thanks to Dr. Pellegrino whose dedication and patience, helped us get everything done. Most of all, thanks for letting us be a part of something very special that has now become a part of our lives.

COLOPHON

The 500 copies of the 9x12 1983 Torch were published by East Side High School's yearbook staff and printed by Walsworth Publishing Company of Marceline, Missouri. Mr. James Petrucci was the company's representative. The 188 page book includes 80 lb. enamel gloss Warren paper. The cover is an embossed silked screen with a special design in metalay. The base material is sturdite over 150 pt. heavy duty board. Type used in the book consists of 8 & 10 pt. Avant Garde and 30 pt. Tiffany for all headlines.

Moving On

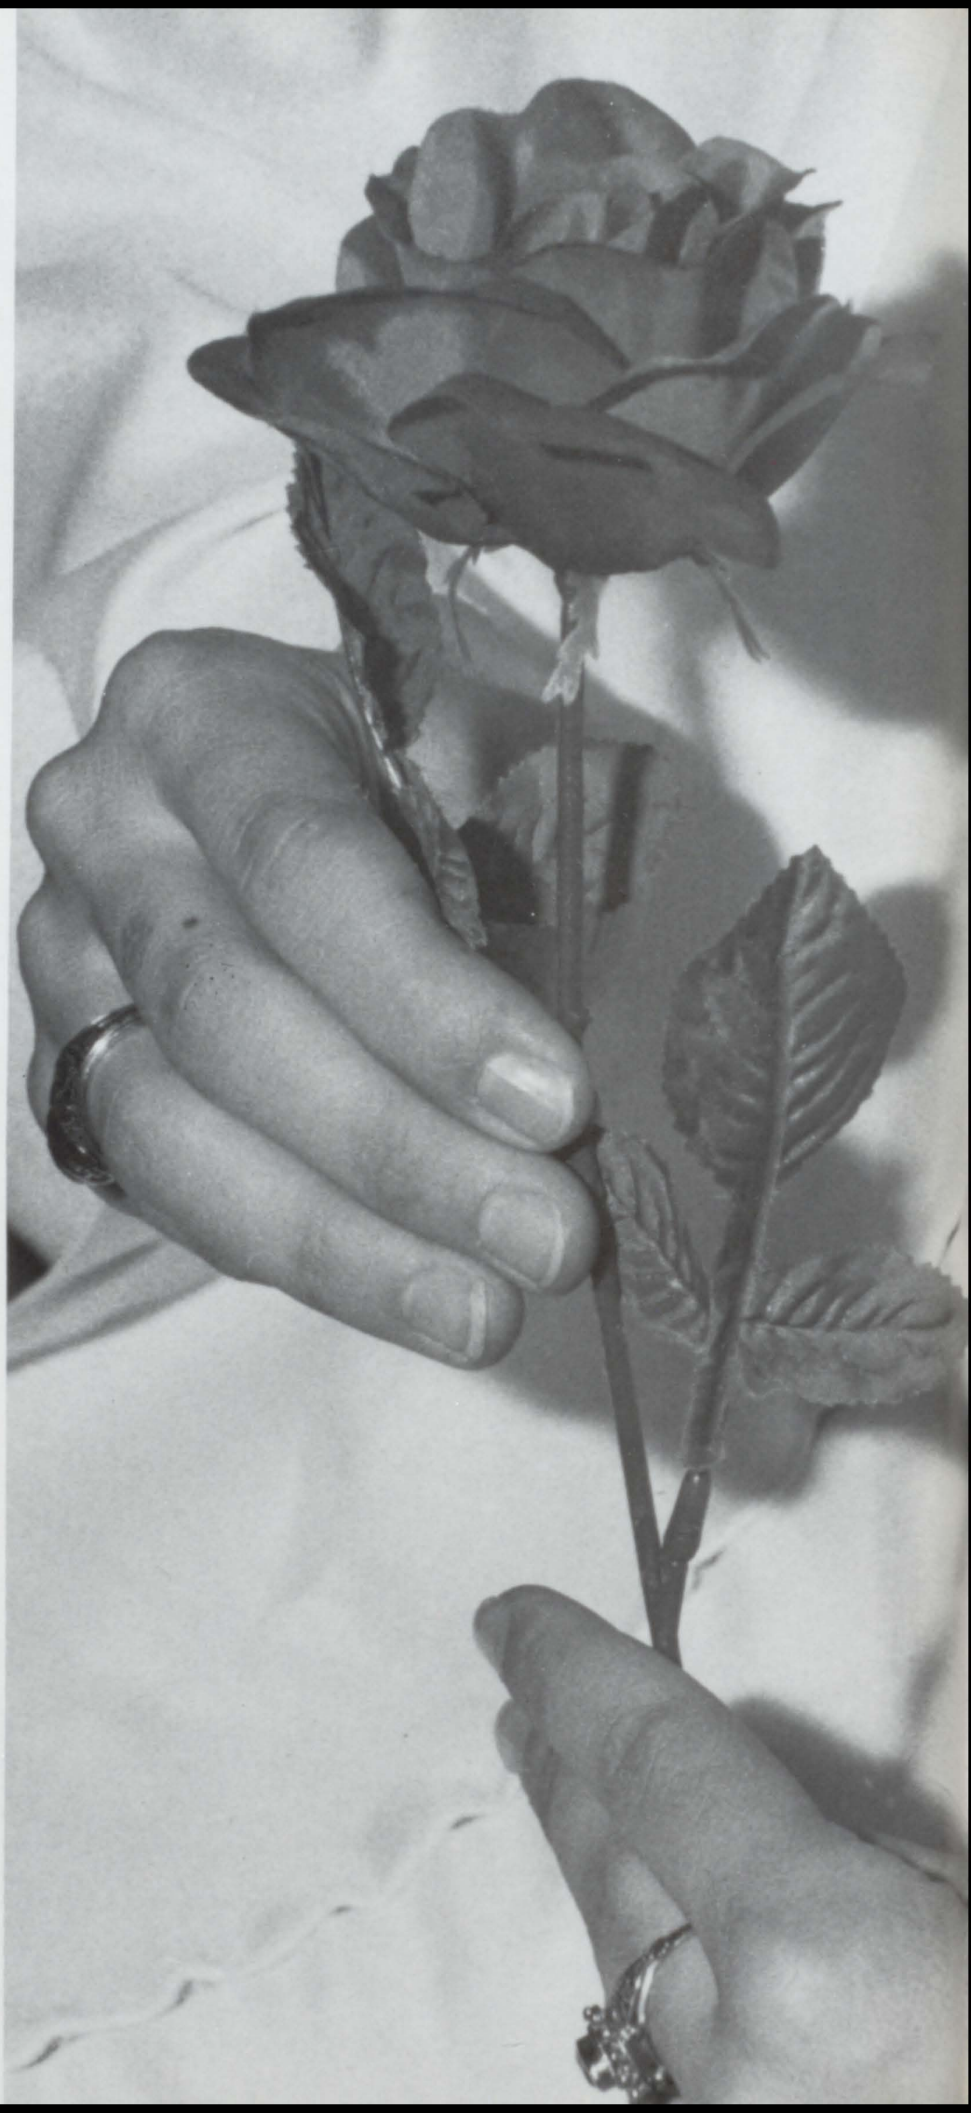

Looking back over the events that have occurred during the last four years, we realized that it is now our time to be moving on. New generations of East Siders, are developing into tomorrows upper-classmen, and the class of '83's reign as Seniors is quickly coming to an end.

No more will we roam the halls, slamming lockers and exchanging conversations. No more will we suit up for gym, attempt to find an unlocked bathroom or repeatedly climb down four flights of stairs only to return on a fire drill. No more will we legally be East Siders.

Graduation will not stop us from retaining memories of the years past, those that occurred in school and out. In 1982-'83 we witnessed the successful flights of the Columbia and Challenger space shuttles, the birth of Prince William, the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, the Miami Dolphins beating the Jets three times during the strike shortened season, the retirement of Bjorn Borg and the legal New Jersey drinking age returned to 21.

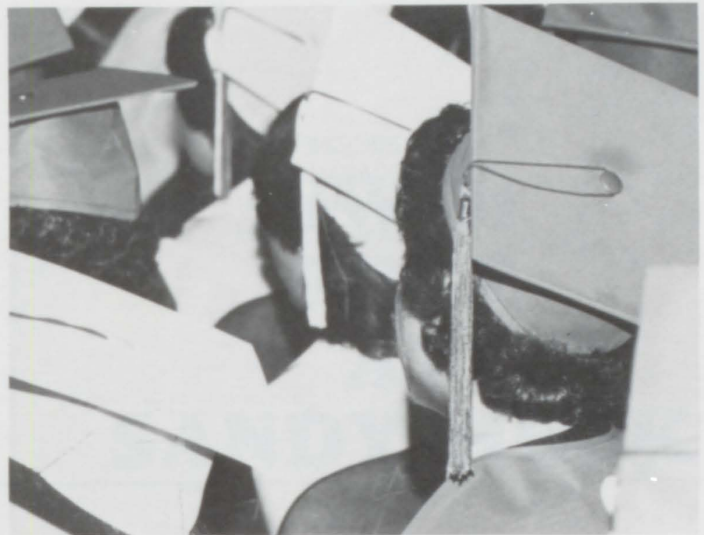

Other memories affected our years, including the Iranian crisis, the death of John Lennon, the inauguration of President Reagan, and the end of the 1970's. Everyone has their own special remembrances of time spent during '79-'83, the time some call the best years of our lives - high school years.

A fresh rose, a new beginning.

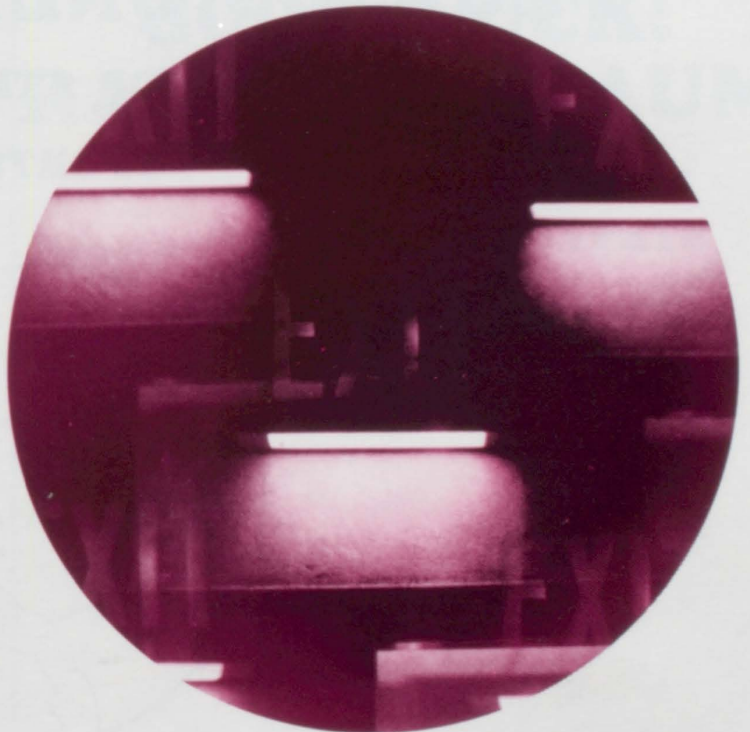

Worth having.

A special moment.

Sorting out memories.

Exit to tomorrow.
